BILL

TO

Amend the Act No. 3, 1864, intituled "An Act for regulating the Duties upon Stamps and Licences."

(Select Committee of the House of Assembly.)

WHEREAS it is expedient to increase certain of the Stamp Duties imposed by the "Stamp Act, 1864," and to amend the said Act in other respects: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. The following portions of the Stamp Act, 1864, and of the schedule annexed to the said Act are hereby repealed, that is to say:

The twenty-third and the twenty-ninth sections of the said Act.

The tariff numbered 2 in the schedule to the said Act, headed "Agreements."

The tariff numbered 4 in the said schedule, headed "Bills, Notes, Cheques, &c."

The tariff numbered 5 in the said schedule, headed "Ships, &c."

The tariff numbered 8 in the said schedule, headed "Transfers and Mortgages."

The tariff numbered 9 in the said schedule, headed "Liquidation Accounts."

The tariff numbered 16 in the said schedule, headed "Miscellaneous Acts."

II. So much of the Act aforesaid No. 3, 1864, not hereinbefore repealed, as shall be repugnant to or inconsistent with any of the provisions of this Act, or of the schedule annexed to this Act shall be, and the same is hereby repealed.

III. The several tariffs in the schedule to this Act contained, and numbered, respectively, with the same numbers as the tariffs repealed by this Act shall, number for number, and whether the heading of uch tariff be the same or varied, take the place and be in stead of the tariffs so repealed, and shall have the force of law accordingly. And all and singular the several explanations, conditions, directions, and provisions contained in the schedule to the Act shall have the same force and effect as if the same were contained in the body of this Act.

IV. Every cession, whether notarial or underhand, of any policy of insurance, whether marine, fire, or life, and whether such cession be absolute or by way of pledge, shall bear a stamp of one half the amount of the stamp to which such original policy was liable. All such cessions must be written either upon stamped paper or upon paper having an adhesive stamp affixed and cancelled as in the fourteenth section of the Act No. 3, 1864, mentioned, or upon the policy ceded. When written upon the policy ceded, an adhesive stamp of the required value must be affixed to or upon such cession, before delivery of the policy ceded to the cessionary. And the person ceding shall cancel such adhesive stamp by writing thereon his name and the date on which he shall write his name.

V. If any person who should, in obedience to or in conformity with the Act aforesaid, No. 3 of 1864, and the schedule thereunto annexed, take out and possess any licence authorizing him to practise any profession or exercise any trade, business, occupation, or calling, or possess, or perform any particular matter or thing, shall be proved to have done or performed, without having previously taken out the particular licence in that behalf required, any act amounting to or in the way of the practice of any such profession, or the exercise of any such trade, business, occupation, or calling, or be proved to have possessed or performed any particular matter or thing for the possession or performance of which a licence shall be required, such person shall, in the absence of any special and greater penalty provided by any law now in force or hereafter to be passed in that behalf, for every such act forfeit any sum not exceeding five times the amount of the charge or duty payable for or in respect of the taking out of the particular licence which such person ought to have taken out and possessed.

VI. All fines and penalties imposed under or by virtue of this Act, or imposed and incurred under or by virtue of the said Act No. 3, 1864, and not yet recovered, may be recovered by criminal process in the court of any resident magistrate having local jurisdiction in the matter in case the amount of such fine shall not exceed fifty pounds sterling, and in the Supreme or Eastern Districts or Circuit Courts, respectively, in case such fine shall exceed fifty pound sterling; but in any case in which the local jurisdiction of any resident magistrate shall be uncertain, then such fines or penalties, though less than fifty pounds sterling in amount, may be recovered in the said Supreme or Eastern Districts Court, or in any Circuit Court, as the case may be; and in every case where any such fine or penalty shall be recovered in any court of resident magistrate, the person condemned may, if he feels himself aggrieved, appeal to the Supreme or Eastern Districts Court, as the case may be, first paying the penalty and giving security to the satisfaction of the resident magistrate for the costs of appeal.

VII. This Act shall commence and take effect from the first day of January, 1871, and may be cited as "The Stamp Act, 1870."

BILL

FOR

Regulating the manner in which the Crown Lands of the Colony shall be disposed of.

(Select Committee of House of Assembly.)

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law regulating the manner of disposing of the Crown lands of this Colony: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. The Act No. 2, 1860, entitled "An Act for regulating the manner in which Crown Lands at the Cape of Good Hope shall be disposed of," the Act No. 19, 1864, entitled "An Act to provide for the leasing of Crown Lands and for other Purposes," and the Act No. 4, 1867, entitled "An Act to amend, in certain respects, the Act No. 19, 1864, 'To provide for the leasing of Crown Lands and other Purposes,'" are hereby repealed.

II. From and after the taking effect of this Act, all waste and unappropriated Crown lands within this Colony shall, except as hereinafter in the eighth section of this Act is excepted, be disposed of on perpetual quitrent for the highest annual rent that can be obtained for the same by public auction.

III. The public auction aforesaid shall, as regards the lands situated in any division except the division of the Cape, be held at the office of the civil commissioner of the division, and as regards lands situated in the division of the Cape at such place in Cape Town as Government shall appoint.

Digitized by Google

IV. A notice of every auction to be held under this Act shall be given by proclamation in the Government Gazette for not less than four months before the day appointed for holding such auction, and such notice shall describe the position and extent of the particular lands intended to be put up to competition, and shall state a minimum, or upset annual quitrent, below which such lands will not be disposed of, as also the amount of the expenses of survey, erection of beacons, and title deeds to be paid or secured by the purchasers as hereinafter mentioned.

V. The highest bidder who shall not have offered less than the minimum or upset rent, shall be declared the purchaser, and every such purchaser shall be bound to secure the payment of the rent for the three first years of the quitrent grant, by sureties whom the civil commissioner shall deem sufficient, which sureties shall bind themselves, in regard to such rent as sureties in solidum and co-principal debtors, renouncing the exceptions of excussion and demise: Provided that the civil commissioner shall, if required, receive two years' rent in advance in lieu and stead of sureties for the payment of three years' rent as aforesaid. And all quitrents stipulated for in grants made under this Act shall commence upon and be reckoned from the day of purchase.

VI. The annual quitrent payable upon any quitrent grant in this Colony, whether a grant made after or before the taking effect of this Act, shall be capable of being redeemed by the payment of a sum equal to twenty times such annual quitrent, but not by the payment of any lesser sum. And any such rent may at and after the same rate be redeemed in parts or proportions, provided such parts or proportions be either three fourths, or one half, or one fourth of the original rent as stated in the deed of grant.

VII. Every such purchaser as aforesaid shall be bound, within one month from the day of his purchase, to pay to the civil commissioner the expenses of survey, erection of beacons, and of the deed of grant, or otherwise, within such month, to secure the payment of such expenses, with interest, within twelve months from the day of purchase, in which latter case he shall secure such payment by sureties, such as are in the fifth section of this Act described, in reference to the quitrent therein mentioned.

VIII. In any case in which lands shall have been put up to competition under this Act the minimum or upset rent shall not have been obtained, or if particular circumstances should render it inexpedient to dispose of particular lands upon perpetual quitrent, then such lands may be let on lease for any term not exceeding three years at the highest rent that can be obtained for them by public auction, should such rent be deemed sufficient.

IX. No such lessee as is in the last preceding section mentioned shall be at liberty to cut down timber trees, underwood, or brushwood, except such as shall be reasonably necessary for his own use in and upon the lands leased by him.

X. All lands disposed of upon perpetual quitrent under this Act shall be subject to such special servitudes and conditions as may be set forth in the conditions of sale, and to the following general conditions, which must be stated in the deed of grant, viz.:

(a.) The quitrent payable.

(b.) All existing roads and thoroughfares described in the diagram shall remain free and uninterrupted.

(c.) Government shall always have the right to make new roads, railways, and railway stations, aqueducts, dams, and drains, or to conduct telegraphs over the land for the benefit of the public, and to establish convenient outspans for the use of travellers, on payment to the proprietor of such sum of money in compensation, as three appraisers, one to be appointed by each side, and a third to be chosen by the two others, before proceeding to act, or any two of them, shall award.

(d.) With regard to lands on or adjoining the sea coast or on the banks of public rivers (not being in a town or village), Government shall have power to resume any portion thereof when required for public purposes on payment to the proprietor of a just and fair price for the same, according to valuation, as under section C.

(e.) Lands adjoining public rivers or running streams shall be sold, subject to having such water-furrows made through or over them, as the Government shall approve of and direct, for the supply of water to lands lying at a greater distance, compensation being made to the proprietors of such adjoining lands according to valuation, as under section C.

(f.) No condition not expressed shall be presumed to exist.

XI. No land, claimed by any registered owner of adjacent land as part of his property by reason of any alleged defective title-deed, or supposed land-marks of the said adjacent land, or land occupied bonâ fide and beneficially without title-deed at the date of the extension of the colonial limits beyond it, or land conditionally occupied or claimed under any general notice or regulation of the Government, or under any promise or order of a Government officer duly authorized at the time to make such promise or give such order, shall be considered or treated as waste Crown land, for the purpose of this Act, until the claim thereto, in each case, shall have been decided on by the Governor, who shall have the power of rejecting the claim altogether, or of satisfying such claim, by grant of the land or compensation out of the public revenue, or otherwise, as shall appear equitable: Provided, always, that due notice of the nature of the claim, and reasonable proof that it may be substantiated, be received at the office of the Colonial Secretary in sufficient time to admit of the withdrawal of the land from sale, and that the claimant use reasonable diligence to lay the proofs in support thereof before the officer or board to whom the question may be referred by the Governor.

XII. Grants or reserves of land may be made by the Governor for special public purposes, provided that no such grant or reserve shall be made until the Legislative Council and House of Assembly shall have communicated to the Governor their concurrence therein.

XIII. No land belonging to any municipality or land within the limits of any municipality or land lying outside the municipal limits, but which has been, by the Governor of this Colony, by proclamation, Government notice, or other instrument or Act, assigned as pasturage for any municipality, shall be considered or treated as waste Crown land for the purposes of this Act. But the Governor shall have the power, upon the application of the commissioners of any municipality to grant or authorize the sale of any portion or portions of such lands for public improvements for the benefit of the inhabitants resident within the limits of such municipality. The term municipality shall, in this section, embrace any corporate town, and the term commissioners, any town council.

XIV. No land lying within or outside any town or village, which has been by the Governor of this Colony, by proclamation, Government notice, or other instrument or Act, assigned as pasturage for such town or village, shall be considered or treated as waste Crown land for the purpose of this Act.

XV. No lands known to contain valuable minerals, or situated in the neighbourhood thereof, no lands required for military stations, defence of the frontier, public outspans, fishing stations on the sea-coast or the banks of tidal rivers, of such extent as the Government shall define, or required for any public purpose, or so much of the land on the sea-coast lying above and within two hundred feet of high water mark shall be considered waste lands of the Crown for the purpose of this Act, and no such land shall be disposed of, except in the manner set forth in section twelve, in regard to the lands therein mentioned.

XVI. In all cases in which Crown lands shall be disposed of, where sufficient public roads, outspans, and cattle thoroughfares do not exist, but may be required, such extent of land as may be necessary for establishing public roads, outspans, and cattle thoroughfares shall be reserved for such purposes.

XVII. No lands leased under "The Agricultural Lands Act, 1870," shall be deemed to be waste Crown lands for the purposes of this Act.

XVIII. Whenever any improvements, such as the erection of buildings, the construction of dams, or of water conduits for irrigation, or the like, shall at any time prior to the taking effect of the Act aforesaid No. 2, 1860, have been made upon Crown land by the occupier thereof, whose occupation shall not have been authorized by Government, it shall be lawful for the Governor, if he shall think fit, to compensate such occupier, wholly or in part, for the improvements so made. In case any such improvements shall have been made by any occupier whose occupation had been authorized by Government, such occupier shall be entitled to the fair value of such improvements: Provided that compensation cannot be claimed, and shall not be given, on account of expenditure upon improvements unconnected with the ordinary use of the land, or upon extravagant improvements not calculated to increase the value of the land.

XIX. The privileges allowed to officers of the army and navy, and in the late East India Company's Service, in respect of remission of purchase money of waste Crown lands may be claimed in regard to quitrent grants made in manner and form as by this Act provided, the certificates of remission issued to those officers being receivable in redemption of quitrents or in payment thereof, or partly in such redemption and partly in such payment, under such regulations as the Governor shall consider necessary and establish.

XX. As often as a piece or portion of Crown land shall lie contiguous to, or between farms belonging to private persons, and it shall be for the common advantage of such persons and the public, owing to the situation of such Crown land, and the circumstances connected with it, that it should be attached to one or more of the contiguous farms, then any such person may apply to the Surveyor-General, stating the position of such Crown land, and the extent thereof so far as the same shall be known to such applicant, and requesting the Surveyor-General, after making all such inquiries in the facts as he shall deem necessary, to certify to the Governor that such piece or portion of Crown land should, in the opinion of the said Surveyor-General be dealt with under the provisions of this section.

XXI. As often as the Surveyor-General shall certify to the Governor that any piece or portion of Crown land should, in the opinion of the Surveyor-General, be dealt with under the provisions of the last preceding section, and the Governor shall have sanctioned its being so dealt with, the Surveyor-General shall cause to be published in the Government Gazette a notice, stating the name of the applicant, the situation and boundaries of the land in question, and the extent thereof if then surveyed, and if not surveyed its supposed extent, and stating that the application of such applicant will be considered by Government upon some day to be mentioned in such notice not being sooner than three months from the day on which such notice was first published in the Government Gazette, a copy of such notice shall be posted at the office of the resident magistrate of the district as soon as may be after such publication in the Gazette, and not later than two months before the day specified in such notice, for the consideration of the application.

XXII. decision of the case, shall report to the Governor whether in his opinion the application in question should be granted wholly or in part, or whether the piece or portion of land applied for by the applicant should be divided between him and any other person or persons, or should be wholly given to or divided between some person or persons other than the applicant, and the Surveyor-General shall conform to such instructions as the Governor after considering the report aforesaid and the circumstances of the case, shall issue in regard to such piece or portion of land.

XXIII. In every case in which any piece or portion of Crown land shall be allotted to any farm under the provisions of the three last-preceding sections of this Act, the owner of such farm shall pay in cash the expenses of survey, erection of beacons, and title deed, and such land so allotted shall be subject to such perpetual quitrent as the Governor shall consider equitable and impose.

The Surveyor-General shall cause to be published in the Government Gazette, during the months of January and July in every year, half-yearly lists made up to the 31st December and 30th June, preceding, respectively, of all title deeds issued from the Surveyor-General's office of any such lands as are in the four preceding sections mentioned, which lists shall set forth in regard to each title deed the division and field-cornetcy in which the land is situated, the name of the grantee or grantees, the extent of the land granted, and the quitrent imposed.

TENDERS FOR THE CONVEYANCE OF MAILS.

General Post Office, Cape Town,
21st March, 1870.

NOTICE is hereby given that Sealed Tenders addressed to the Honourable the Auditor-General, and marked "Tender for Inland Mails," will be received by that Officer until Thursday, 2nd June, 1870, at 12 noon, for the conveyance of the following Mails:

Somerset and Bedford, viâ Cookhouse Drift, three times a week each way by Cart (Passenger or other), in six hours.

The Contract to commence from Wednesday, 13th July, to expire on 31st December, 1872.

Middelburg and Graaff-Reinet, in fourteen hours once a week each way, to commence on 1st August, 1870, and expire 31st December, 1872.

If a Tender for this line be accepted, either of the contracting parties will be at liberty to terminate the same upon giving four months' notice, in writing, to that effect.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

No Tender will be attended to unless prepared in proper form, in conformity with this Notice, and of which copies may be obtained either at this Office, or that of the respective Civil Commissioners and Postmasters.

The Tenders must include all intermediate Post Offices etween Stations.

It is desired that the Tenderers should state the number of relays of Horses to be used, and the Stations at which they will be kept; as, also, at what price they will engage to convey extra Posts or Expresses on Horseback on the Post Line for which they tender.

Payment will be made to the Contractor monthly, either at the Colonial Treasury in Cape Town, or by the Civil Commissioner of any Division he may select; provided the Contract Bond shall previously have been transmitted to this Office, duly completed, which Bond the Contractor will be required to execute in the presence of two competent Witnesses, together with two good and approved Sureties, to be provided by him, for the due fulfilment of the Contract; and he must accompany his Tender with a written engagement from his Sureties to bind themselves as such; as, also, with a Certificate from the Civil Commissioner or Resident Magistrate of the District in which he resides, as to the sufficiency of such Sureties. In the Tender, the names of the Contractor and his Sureties should be stated at full length, and their respective occupations should also be mentioned therein. The Security required will, in each case, be equal to the payment to be made by Government to the Contractor for one year of the Contract.

The Contractor will be required to provide his own means of conveyance for crossing rivers, without detention; and all penalties for delay, from whatever cause arising, will be rigidly exacted. Any party tendering is required to specify in his Tender the means to be adopted by him for crossing or avoiding swollen rivers, either by applying some contrivance, or leaving the usual line, and also the delay, if any, to be allowed on such occasions.

The Tenderers are required to convey the Mails in covered Carts on springs, conveyed by not fewer than two horses each.

The Contractor's Carts are to be light, but strong sufficiently large to contain the Mail Bags, and to be furnished with Waterproof Wells, or Boxes, with strong Locks and Keys, to hold the Mail Packets, for enclosing and securing which it will be necessary for the Contractor to supply Waterproof Bags; or, failing these, the Cart is to be supplied with Tarpaulins, to be strapped over it and over any Mail Packets that may have to be secured to it, and which are to be lashed on with good stout riems. The Carts to be provided with two good Lamps, with strong Reflectors, which are to be kept lighted at night when travelling.

The Contractor is bound, at his own expense, to provide the means of protecting the Mail Packets from the weather, or injury in transferring them from one Post Cart to another, on the line of road herein referred to, and will be held responsible for any damage which may occur to them whilst being transferred from his charge.

The Contractor will be at liberty to carry such number of Passengers or Parcels in the Mail Vehicle as he may think fit, and to make his own charge for the accommodation thus afforded; provided that part of the Box or Well of the Cart specially to be appropriated for the Mail shall not be mixed up with any other Packets, &c., not appertaining to such Mail.

But the Contractor will not be allowed to carry in his Vehicles, by himself or any of his Servants, any Letters or Newspapers, excepting those delivered to him by the respective Postmasters, or for delivery at any Post Office, nor are they knowingly to permit any Passenger to carry any Letter or Newspaper.

The Post Rider shall be provided by the Contractor with a Bugle or Horn, to be sounded when approaching any Post Office or Post Station.

For any detention of the Mail, or any part thereof, beyond the time specified for the distance allowed, the Contractor shall forfeit according to the following scale:

	£	s.	d.
For every period not exceeding half an hour –	0	2	6
" half an hour, and not exceeding one hour –	0	7	6
" one hour, and not exceeding an hour and a half – – – – – – – – – –	0	15	0
" one hour and a half, and not exceeding two hours – – – – – – – – – –	1	5	0
two hours, and not exceeding two hours and a half – – – – – – – – – –	2	0	0

and for every additional half-hour beyond two hours and a half, the additional sum of Ten Shillings.

In the event of the Contractor failing or neglecting for three Posts in succession to convey the Mails within the time herein stipulated, the Postmaster-General for the time being, in that case, to have it in his power, should he so think fit, to advertise for Tenders for a new Contract without any reference to the clause for giving four months' notice for an earlier termination thereof (which clause is to be null and void); and any loss that may accrue by reason that the terms of the new Contract are higher than the terms of the old is to be borne by the Contractor.

And inasmuch as serious irregularities have arisen from changing Vehicles and shifting the Mails, the Contractor will have to bind himself that as often as any Post Boy of his shall receive any Mail Bags or Post Office Packets in to any Vehicle at any Post Office, such Bags and Packets shall be carried to their destination in that same Vehicle, and that none of the said Bags or Parcels shall, between the Post Office where the same were received and the Post Office where the same should be delivered, be shifted or removed from that Vehicle to any other Vehicle or mode of conveyance unless with the permission and in the presence of some Postmaster, or unless the Vehicle carrying the same shall, by accident or other cause arising after the same shall have been received, be rendered incapable of carrying on the Mail to its destination. And for any and every breach of this stipulation the Contractor will hav to pay to the Postmaster-General for the time being whatever penalty he shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds sterling.

In case any Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail shall not be regularly delivered at the same time as the rest thereof, the Contractor shall be bound to pay to the Postmaster-General, for or in respect of every such lost or missing Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail, such sum as the said Postmaster shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds Sterling, unless the Contractor shall prove that such Bag, Packet, or other part of any such Mail was lost or delayed by inevitable accident against which it was impossible to guard. And the Contractor shall likewise be liable to the Postmaster-General, claiming on behalf of whom it may concern, to make good all loss or damage sustained by any Person whomsoever, by reason that any Mail or Bag, Parcel, or other part of any Mail, shall have been lost or delayed for want of due and proper care and diligence of the Contractor, or any person in his service.

Should the said Contractor fail in the performance of his agreement at any period during the existence of the same, then, and in that case, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General for the time being, and for all Persons thereto authorized by him, to hire, or cause to be hired such Person or Persons, Horse or Horses, as shall be required for the due performance thereof; and all and every expense attendant upon the same shall be borne and sustained by the said Contractor.

And it is lastly agreed that in case of any act of omission constituting a breach by the Contractor of any of the provisions or stipulations of this Contract, not being an act or omission for which any other particular penalty is hereinbefore provided, the Postmaster-General shall have the option of claiming from the Contractor, for and on account of every such act or omission, respectively, the payment of Ten Pounds Sterling, by way of assessed and liquidated damages, and not as a penalty; or otherwise, of claiming and recovering such further or other sum as the said Postmaster shall prove to be the amount of loss or damages actually sustained from or by reason of such act or omission.

The Contractor will be bound to provide a passage in his Mail Conveyance for an Officer of this Department, when travelling on public business, without charge, when required so to do.

Further information may be obtained on application at the Office of the Postmaster-General.

CHARLES PIERS, Postmaster-General.

TENDERS FOR THE CONVEYANCE OF MAILS.

General Post Office, Cape Town, 21st March, 1870.

NOTICE is hereby given that Sealed Tenders addressed to the Honourable the Auditor-General, and marked "Tender for Inland Mails," will be received by that Officer until Thursday, 2nd June, 1870, at 12 noon, for the conveyance of the following Mails:

Somerset and Bedford, viâ Cookhouse Drift, three times a week each way by Cart (Passenger or other), in six hours.

The Contract to commence from Wednesday, 13th July, to expire on 31st December, 1872.

Middelburg and Graaff-Reinet, in fourteen hours once a week each way, to commence on 1st August, 1870, and expire 31st December, 1872.

If a Tender for this line be accepted, either of the contracting parties will be at liberty to terminate the same upon giving four months' notice, in writing, to that effect.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

No Tender will be attended to unless prepared in proper form, in conformity with this Notice, and of which copies may be obtained either at this Office, or that of the respective Civil Commissioners and Postmasters.

The Tenders must include all intermediate Post Offices between Stations.

It is desired that the Tenderers should state the number of relays of Horses to be used, and the Stations at which they will be kept; as, also, at what price they will engage to convey extra Posts or Expresses on Horseback on the Post Line for which they tender.

Payment will be made to the Contractor monthly, either at the Colonial Treasury in Cape Town, or by the Civil Commissioner of any Division he may select; provided the Contract Bond shall previously have been transmitted to this Office, duly completed, which Bond the Contractor will be required to execute in the presence of two competent Witnesses, together with two good and approved Sureties, to be provided by him, for the due fulfilment of the Contract; and he must accompany his Tender with a written engagement from his Sureties to bind themselves as such; as, also, with a Certificate from the Civil Commissioner or Resident Magistrate of the District in which he resides, as to the sufficiency of such Sureties. In the Tender, the names of the Contractor and his Sureties should be stated at full length, and their respective occupations should also be mentioned therein. The Security required will, in each case, be equal to the payment to be made by Government to the Contractor for one year of the Contract.

The Contractor will be required to provide his own means of conveyance for crossing rivers, without detention; and all penalties for delay, from whatever cause arising, will be rigidly exacted. Any party tendering is required to specify in his Tender the means to be adopted by him for crossing or avoiding swollen rivers, either by applying some contrivance, or leaving the usual line, and also the delay, if any, to be allowed on such occasions.

The Tenderers are required to convey the Mails in covered Carts on springs, conveyed by not fewer than two horses each.

The Contractor's Carts are to be light, but strong sufficiently large to contain the Mail Bags, and to be furnished with Waterproof Wells, or Boxes, with strong Locks and Keys, to hold the Mail Packets, for enclosing and securing which it will be necessary for the Contractor to supply Waterproof Bags; or, failing these, the Cart is to be supplied with Tarpaulins, to be strapped over it and over any Mail Packets that may have to be secured to it, and which are to be lashed on with good stout riems. The Carts to be provided with two good Lamps, with strong Reflectors, which are to be kept lighted at night when travelling.

The Contractor is bound, at his own expense, to provide the means of protecting the Mail Packets from the weather, or injury in transferring them from one Post Cart to another, on the line of road herein referred to, and will be held responsible for any damage which may occur to them whilst being transferred from his charge.

The Contractor will be at liberty to carry such number of Passengers or Parcels in the Mail Vehicle as he may think fit, and to make his own charge for the accommodation thus afforded; provided that part of the Box or Well of the Cart specially to be appropriated for the Mail shall not be mixed up with any other Packets, &c., not appertaining to such Mail.

But the Contractor will not be allowed to carry in his Vehicles, by himself or any of his Servants, any Letters or Newspapers, excepting those delivered to him by the respective Postmasters, or for delivery at any Post Office, nor are they knowingly to permit any Passenger to carry any Letter or Newspaper.

The Post Rider shall be provided by the Contractor with a Bugle or Horn, to be sounded when approaching any Post Office or Post Station.

For any detention of the Mail, or any part thereof, beyond the time specified for the distance allowed, the Contractor shall forfeit according to the following scale:

	£	s.	d.
For every period not exceeding half an hour -	0	2	6
" half an hour, and not exceeding one hour -	0	7	6
" one hour, and not exceeding an hour and a half - - - - - - - - -	0	15	0
one hour and a half, and not exceeding two hours - - - - - - - -	1	5	0
two hours, and not exceeding two hours and a half - - - - - - - -	2	0	0

and for every additional half-hour beyond two hours and a half, the additional sum of Ten Shillings.

In the event of the Contractor failing or neglecting for three Posts in succession to convey the Mails within the time herein stipulated, the Postmaster-General for the time being, in that case, to have it in his power, should he so think fit, to advertise for Tenders for a new Contract without any reference to the clause for giving four months' notice for an earlier termination thereof (which clause is to be null and void); and any loss that may accrue by reason that the terms of the new Contract are higher than the terms of the old is to be borne by the Contractor.

And inasmuch as serious irregularities have arisen from hanging Vehicles and shifting the Mails, the Contractor will have to bind himself that as often as any Post Boy of his shall receive any Mail Bags or Post Office Packets in to any Vehicle at any Post Office, such Bags and Packets shall be carried to their destination in that same Vehicle, and that none of the said Bags or Parcels shall, between the Post Office where the same were received and the Post Office where the same should be delivered, be shifted or removed from that Vehicle to any other Vehicle or mode of conveyance unless with the permission and in the presence of some Postmaster, or unless the Vehicle carrying the same shall, by accident or other cause arising after the same shall have been received, be rendered incapable of carrying on the Mail to its destination. And for any and every breach of this stipulation the Contractor will have to pay to the Postmaster-General for the time being whatever penalty he shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds sterling.

In case any Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail shall not be regularly delivered at the same time as the rest thereof, the Contractor shall be bound to pay to the Postmaster-General, for or in respect of every such lost or missing Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail, such sum as the said Postmaster shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds Sterling, unless the Contractor shall prove that such Bag, Packet, or other part of any such Mail was lost or delayed by inevitable accident against which it was impossible to guard. And the Contractor shall likewise be liable to the Postmaster-General, claiming on behalf of whom it may concern, to make good all loss or damage sustained by any Person whomsoever, by reason that any Mail or Bag, Parcel, or other part of any Mail, shall have been lost or delayed for want of due and proper care and diligence of the Contractor, or any person in his service.

Should the said Contractor fail in the performance of his agreement at any period during the existence of the same, then, and in that case, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General for the time being, and for all Persons thereto authorized by him, to hire, or cause to be hired such Person or Persons, Horse or Horses, as shall be required for the due performance thereof; and all and every expense attendant upon the same shall be borne and sustained by the said Contractor.

And it is lastly agreed that in case of any act of omission constituting a breach by the Contractor of any of the provisions or stipulations of this Contract, not being an act or omission for which any other particular penalty is hereinbefore provided, the Postmaster-General shall have the option of claiming from the Contractor, for and on account of every such act or omission, respectively, the payment of Ten Pounds Sterling, by way of assessed and liquidated damages, and not as a penalty; or otherwise, of claiming and recovering such further or other sum as the said Postmaster shall prove to be the amount of loss or damages actually sustained from or by reason of such act or omission.

The Contractor will be bound to provide a passage in his Mail Conveyance for an Officer of this Department, when travelling on public business, without charge, when required so to do.

Further information may be obtained on application at the Office of the Postmaster-General.

CHARLES PIERS, Postmaster-General.

TENDERS FOR THE CONVEYANCE OF MAILS.

General Post Office, Cape Town,
21st March, 1870.

NOTICE is hereby given that Sealed Tenders addressed to the Honourable the Auditor-General, and marked "Tender for Inland Mails," will be received by that Officer until Thursday, 2nd June, 1870, at 12 noon, for the conveyance of the following Mails:

Somerset and Bedford, viâ Cookhouse Drift, three times a week each way by Cart (Passenger or other), in six hours.

The Contract to commence from Wednesday, 13th July, to expire on 31st December, 1872.

Middelburg and Graaff-Reinet, in fourteen hours once a week each way, to commence on 1st August, 1870, and expire 31st December, 1872.

If a Tender for this line be accepted, either of the contracting parties will be at liberty to terminate the same upon giving four months' notice, in writing, to hat effect.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

No Tender will be attended to unless prepared in proper form, in conformity with this Notice, and of which copies may be obtained either at this Office, or that of the respective Civil Commissioners and Postmasters.

The Tenders must include all intermediate Post Offices etween Stations.

It is desired that the Tenderers should state the number of relays of Horses to be used, and the Stations at which they will be kept; as, also, at what price they will engage to convey extra Posts or Expresses on Horseback on the Post Line for which they tender.

Payment will be made to the Contractor monthly, either at the Colonial Treasury in Cape Town, or by the Civil Commissioner of any Division he may select; provided the Contract Bond shall previously have been transmitted to this Office, duly completed, which Bond the Contractor will be required to execute in the presence of two competent Witnesses, together with two good and approved Sureties, to be provided by him, for the due fulfilment of the Contract; and he must accompany his Tender with a written engagement from his Sureties to bind themselves as such; as, also, with a Certificate from the Civil Commissioner or Resident Magistrate of the District in which he resides, as to the sufficiency of such Sureties. In the Tender, the names of the Contractor and his Sureties should be stated at full length, and their respective occupations should also be mentioned therein. The Security required will, in each case, be equal to the payment to be made by Government to the Contractor for one year of the Contract.

The Contractor will be required to provide his own means of conveyance for crossing rivers, without detention; and all penalties for delay, from whatever cause arising, will be rigidly exacted. Any party tendering is required to specify in his Tender the means to be adopted by him for crossing or avoiding swollen rivers, either by applying some contrivance, or leaving the usual line, and also the delay, if any, to be allowed on such occasions.

The Tenderers are required to convey the Mails in covered Carts on springs, conveyed by not fewer than two horses each.

The Contractor's Carts are to be light, but strong sufficiently large to contain the Mail Bags, and to be furnished with Waterproof Wells, or Boxes, with strong Locks and Keys, to hold the Mail Packets, for enclosing and securing which it will be necessary for the Contractor to supply Waterproof Bags; or, failing these, the Cart is to be supplied with Tarpaulins, to be strapped over it and over any Mail Packets that may have to be secured to it, and which are to be lashed on with good stout riems. The Carts to be provided with two good Lamps, with strong Reflectors, which are to be kept lighted at night when travelling.

The Contractor is bound, at his own expense, to provide the means of protecting the Mail Packets from the weather, or injury in transferring them from one Post Cart to another, on the line of road herein referred to, and will be held responsible for any damage which may occur to them whilst being transferred from his charge.

The Contractor will be at liberty to carry such number of Passengers or Parcels in the Mail Vehicle as he may think fit, and to make his own charge for the accommodation thus afforded; provided that part of the Box or Well of the Cart specially to be appropriated for the Mail shall not be mixed up with any other Packets, &c., not appertaining to such Mail.

But the Contractor will not be allowed to carry in his Vehicles, by himself or any of his Servants, any Letters or Newspapers, excepting those delivered to him by the respective Postmasters, or for delivery at any Post Office, nor are they knowingly to permit any Passenger to carry any Letter or Newspaper.

The Post Rider shall be provided by the Contractor with a Bugle or Horn, to be sounded when approaching any Post Office or Post Station.

For any detention of the Mail, or any part thereof, beyond the time specified for the distance allowed, the Contractor shall forfeit according to the following scale:

	£	s.	d.
For every period not exceeding half an hour -	0	2	6
" half an hour, and not exceeding one hour -	0	7	6
" one hour, and not exceeding an hour and a half - - - - - - - - - -	0	15	0
" one hour and a half, and not exceeding two hours - - - - - - - - -	1	5	0
" two hours, and not exceeding two hours and a half - - - - - - - - -	2	0	0

and for every additional half-hour beyond two hours and a half, the additional sum of Ten Shillings.

In the event of the Contractor failing or neglecting for three Posts in succession to convey the Mails within the time herein stipulated, the Postmaster-General for the time being, in that case, to have it in his power, should he so think fit, to advertise for Tenders for a new Contract without any reference to the clause for giving four months' notice for an earlier termination thereof (which clause is to be null and void); and any loss that may accrue by reason that the terms of the new Contract are higher than the terms of the old is to be borne by the Contractor.

And inasmuch as serious irregularities have arisen from hanging Vehicles and shifting the Mails, the Contractor will have to bind himself that as often as any Post Boy of his shall receive any Mail Bags or Post Office Packets in to any Vehicle at any Post Office, such Bags and Packets shall be carried to their destination in that same Vehicle, and that none of the said Bags or Parcels shall, between the Post Office where the same were received and the Post Office where the same should be delivered, be shifted or removed from that Vehicle to any other Vehicle or mode of conveyance unless with the permission and in the presence of some Postmaster, or unless the Vehicle carrying the same shall, by accident or other cause arising after the same shall have been received, be rendered incapable of carrying on the Mail to its destination. And for any and every breach of this stipulation the Contractor will have to pay to the Postmaster-General for the time being whatever penalty he shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds sterling.

In case any Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail shall not be regularly delivered at the same time as the rest thereof, the Contractor shall be bound to pay to the Postmaster-General, for or in respect of every such lost or missing Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail, such sum as the said Postmaster shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds Sterling, unless the Contractor shall prove that such Bag, Packet, or other part of any such Mail was lost or delayed by inevitable accident against which it was impossible to guard. And the Contractor shall likewise be liable to the Postmaster-General, claiming on behalf of whom it may concern, to make good all loss or damage sustained by any Person whomsoever, by reason that any Mail or Bag, Parcel, or other part of any Mail, shall have been lost or delayed for want of due and proper care and diligence of the Contractor, or any person in his service.

Should the said Contractor fail in the performance of his agreement at any period during the existence of the same, then, and in that case, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General for the time being, and for all Persons thereto authorized by him, to hire, or cause to be hired such Person or Persons, Horse or Horses, as shall be required for the due performance thereof; and all and every expense attendant upon the same shall be borne and sustained by the said Contractor.

And it is lastly agreed that in case of any act of omission constituting a breach by the Contractor of any of the provisions or stipulations of this Contract, not being an act or omission for which any other particular penalty is hereinbefore provided, the Postmaster-General shall have the option of claiming from the Contractor, for and on account of every such act or omission, respectively, the payment of Ten Pounds Sterling, by way of assessed and liquidated damages, and not as a penalty; or otherwise, of claiming and recovering such further or other sum as the said Postmaster shall prove to be the amount of loss or damages actually sustained from or by reason of such act or omission.

The Contractor will be bound to provide a passage in his Mail Conveyance for an Officer of this Department, when travelling on public business, without charge, when required so to do.

Further information may be obtained on application at the Office of the Postmaster-General.

CHARLES PIERS, Postmaster-General.

The Premiums are payable yearly in advance; or at the option of the Assured, half-yearly, with a slight increase of the Rate.

This being a MUTUAL ASSURANCE SOCIETY, the profits are not, as in Proprietary Companies, divided between the Partners and the Assured,—the whole belong to the Policy-holders.

The Profits are divided amongst the holders of Policies at the termination of every period of THREE YEARS, and each holder may determine that his share shall be added to the sum assured by him,—or converted into Present Payment—or applied in Reduction of the future Annual Premiums payable by him.

The last Division was declared at the Annual Meeting held on the 6th July, 1868. The Profits then divided were at the rate of 2½ per cent. per annum, or 7½ per cent. for the three years. Thus a Policy of £500, taken out before 1st November, 1865, has £37 10s., three years' Profits added to it; a Policy of the same amount, taken out before 1st November, 1867, has £12 10s., one year's Profits added; while the total accumulated Profits on a Policy of £500, taken out in 1845, the first year of the Society's existence, now amount to the large sum of £401 0s. 4d.

The next Division of Profits will take place in July, 1871.

Persons proposing for assurance are required to produce Certificates of Baptism, or such other proofs of age as the Directors may deem to be satisfactory.

Candidates for assurance are not charged with fees payable to the Medical Officers of the Society.

Prospectuses, Forms of Proposal, and all information respecting the Society may be obtained at the Office in Cape Town, or at any of the Agencies throughout the Colony.

By order of the Board,

No 4,227.

THE CAPE OF GOOD HOPE

Government Gazette.

Published by Authority.

FRIDAY, MAY 6, 1870.

Government-house, 5th May, 1870.

THIS DAY His Excellency the Governor prorogued the Second Session of the Fourth Parliament of the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope,—the Legislative Council and House of Assembly being assembled in the State Room at Government-house,—and His Excellency was pleased to deliver the following Speech:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL:

MR. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY:

In bringing this Session to a close, I beg to thank you for the supplies which you have been pleased to vote for the service of the year, and also for the efforts made for the provision of Revenue sufficient to defray the charges that you have sanctioned.

I hope that notwithstanding the changes made in the Bill for the imposition of the House Tax, which must no doubt render its collection more costly and difficult, the receipts from that Tax, coupled with a general improvement in the other sources of Revenue, may at no distant day afford such relief to your Finances as will enable you to take into consideration the many Public Works that are required in different parts of the Colony, nearly all of which have now been postponed.

Perhaps, too, when this question of Finance ceases to press so heavily upon you, you will be enabled to give your attention to measures of general legislation much needed.

I am about to leave this Colony, in which I have resided so many years at a very critical period in its history, and when it is apparently on the eve of very important changes in its political condition.

I have never been a colonist in the ordinary acceptation of the term, but I have, all my life, been a Colonial Servant of the British Crown. All my sympathies are enlisted in the close connection of the Colonies with England, and the movements now taking place towards the dissolution of those ties are, to me, most unwelcome. It was under the influence of these feelings that, on the receipt of the Secretary of State's Dispatch, which you have had before you, I ventured to take advantage of the alternative offered between the establishment of Responsible Government and a modification of the present form of Government, to recommend the latter. I did so in the hope that, by this means, the ties formerly existing might have been maintained and strengthened, and that Her Majesty's Government, having accepted a continued responsibility, might have judged it prudent to retain here Troops sufficient to support its authority, and to guard against sudden disasters.

In the exercise of that judgment to which you were fully entitled, you decided against that proposal,—you preferred to it retaining the present very unsatisfactory form of Government, and the process of severing those ties which it was my wish to preserve, has already begun. The orders for the withdrawal of the troops have been issued, and there appears now no probability of their being reconsidered. There can be no longer any doubt that your future Government, whatever may be its name or form, must be regulated on the principle of complete self-dependence, and most sincerely do I hope that it may prove thoroughly successful. For the attainment of that result, however, it is essential that the constituent body of the Colony should be gradually trained to take a more reasonable and intelligent view of the true functions of the Government under which they will have to live, to shake off that spirit of distrust which works so prejudicially, to regard it as possible that the Government may be doing no more than its bare duty in urging the adoption of measures to which, from want of full information, they may be themselves averse. There are those who think that, by the mere establishment of Responsible Government, this improved state of feeling will be brought into existence; should their expectations be realized, the gain will be great indeed. But those expectations have little foundation in the past. It is hard to see why there should be this sudden revulsion. The Queen's Government, when it parted with the powers which it formerly possessed, left the Colony free of debt. It was under the Queen's Government, at the expense of the Imperial Treasury, and with the aid of the Queen's Troops, that those great accessions of land were obtained to which so large a proportion of the colonists of the Eastern Districts owe their present position in life. It is hard to see what greater benefits a Responsible Ministry can bestow on the people. Indeed, I do not believe that the time has yet been when a Responsible Ministry, contending with the bad seasons, debt, and diminished commercial returns which we have of late years seen, could have commanded a working majority in the two Houses of the Legislature. Nevertheless, a change in that direction seems to be imminent. The last mail has brought me a renewed declaration on the part of the Secretary of State that the choice lies between giving the present Government the power it ought to possess, if it is to meet effectually the difficulties with which it is environed (which you are not prepared to do), and the establishment of Responsible Government. I cannot doubt, therefore, that the organization of the new order of things will be much facilitated by the transfer of the administration from my hands to those of one who may perhaps take a more encouraging view of its probable consequences.

With regard to native affairs, perhaps the most important branch of the administration of this Colony, the change is equally complete. Viewing together the withdrawal of troops, the communications from Her Majesty's Government by which it has been preceded, the public declarations they have made of their policy on colonial questions in general, it must be clear that they do not desire, that they will not in future exercise, control over native affairs any more than over other matters of internal policy. The native tribes of South Africa are so intimately connected, their main interests are so identical, that it is, as it always has been, impossible to sever the control of the natives within the Colony from the guidance of our relations with those beyond. The fiction (for fiction it has long been) of Imperial interest in these parts is at an end. All acts done must now be in name, as they have long been in reality, of Colonial importance alone.

It is right, therefore, that I should now clearly explain the actual position of the Basutos. The reception of these people as British subjects has been throughout advocated and promoted by me, no doubt in the interests of humanity, but as certainly in the interests, as I have thought, of this Colony, and they were received under the strongest assurances on their part that they could, and they would, provide a revenue sufficient for the government of their country. Owing to unforseen impediments, their reception has only now been completed by the ratification of the Convention of Aliwal, and the still more recent release from his allegiance by the Free State of the Chief Molappo. I hope, therefore, in a few days to transmit the regulations for the government of the country, and to appoint the officers by whom they will be administered. These last will derive their incomes altogether from the Basuto revenues. The tribe has undertaken to pay an annual Hut Tax as from this month of May. If the promise be kept, the revenue will be quite sufficient; and I have authorized the British Agent there to intimate plainly that a breach of their agreement will frustrate all the efforts that have been made for their benefit.

With regard to the Frontier Police, it must be admitted that the people of the Colony have the first claim on their services, and that they are maintained for their protection. Their employment beyond the Colony is justifiable only in the interests of its people. It was in consideration of those interests that they were taken into Basutoland, and that they are now retained there. At the present juncture the chief object should be to guard against any interruption of tranquillity from whatever cause and in whatever quarter. The immediate removal of the Police from Basutoland might cause disturbances there, to which it might be very difficult to assign a limit. For the present, therefore, and until their services are more urgently required within the Colony, I think it will be but prudent to leave that detachment where it is now stationed.

In the general conduct of native affairs it has been the constant object of the Government to act with firmness and impartiality, and to deal justly between all classes of the population. I think there is ground for believing we have thus, in a great degree, won the confidence of the native tribes,—that there are none of them who now attribute to the Government hostile or unfriendly intentions towards them. They have seen that, within the Colony, the Government had the power,—they thought it possessed the inclination to protect them,—and they, therefore, viewed with indifference incidents which might otherwise have created general alarm. I trust that nothing may occur to disturb this confidence, that nothing may tend to raise passing alarms into serious disasters. On such an occasion as the present I may even advise those who take part in the proceedings of the Parliament to discourage those discussions on the character and conduct of the natives and proposals of measures directed against them to which we have been so much accustomed. Not a Session passes in which either Passes, Certificates of Citizenship, Masters and Servants Laws, a Poll Tax, the removal of Cattle, is not discussed. The measures differ in name; they are all directed to the same end; they are all more or less supported by the same arguments; they are equally unprofitable; they all tend to aggravate and give prominence to antagonism between the two races, which have it in their power, and which ought to live in harmony, to their mutual benefit. The Government has never been insensible to the losses that have been sustained by thefts of stock, causing at times great irritation, and has been anxious to adopt all reasonable means for their suppression. But even here it is well to bear in mind that our farmers have established themselves in the midst of races to whom, as to their own forefathers in past ages, cattle-lifting presented itself in the form of an honourable occupation. It must be a work of time to eradicate these habits, and, in the meantime, it will be well not to put altogether out of sight the wonderful security in which individuals and property can move about without protection of any kind in this wild and thinly-populated country. It is beyond denial that the Natives are gradually acquiring habits of industry and exerting themselves to improve their position in life. Each year as it passes, if peace be but preserved, will strengthen these dispositions, and will give additional guarantees for the safety of all.

A new industry also has of late been introduced into the Eastern Districts, that of the cultivation of Cotton, which, if it be attended with the success now hoped, will greatly augment the commercial resources of this Colony, and will unite the European and Native Races in a close and profitable partnership. In short, it is impossible to exaggerate the obligation now resting on every individual to abstain carefully from word and deed calculated to wound or irritate any class of this mixed population.

I am sensible that during the period for which we have been jointly engaged in conducting the business of the country serious differences have, on some occasions, existed between us. For any that I may have unadvisedly or unnecessarily created, I hope you will accept my assurance of regret. And I must earnestly pray that your deliberations in future years may be productive of great benefit to all those whose affairs it may be your lot to regulate and control.

I now, in Her Majesty's name, prorogue this Parliament of the Cape of Good Hope to Monday, the 15th day of August next, and it is hereby prorogued accordingly.

TENDERS FOR THE CONVEYANCE OF MAILS.

General Post Office, Cape Town,
21st March, 1870.

NOTICE is hereby given that Sealed Tenders addressed to the Honourable the Auditor-General, and marked "Tender for Inland Mails," will be received by that Officer until Thursday, 2nd June, 1870, at 12 noon, for the conveyance of the following Mails:

Somerset and Bedford, viâ Cookhouse Drift, three times a week each way by Cart (Passenger or other), in six hours.

The Contract to commence from Wednesday, 13th July, to expire on 31st December, 1872.

Middelburg and Graaff-Reinet, in fourteen hours once a week each way, to commence on 1st August, 1870, and expire 31st December, 1872.

If a Tender for this line be accepted, either of the contracting parties will be at liberty to terminate the same upon giving four months' notice, in writing, to that effect.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

No Tender will be attended to unless prepared in proper form, in conformity with this Notice, and of which copies may be obtained either at this Office, or that of the respective Civil Commissioners and Postmasters.

The Tenders must include all intermediate Post Offices between Stations.

It is desired that the Tenderers should state the number of relays of Horses to be used, and the Stations at which they will be kept; as, also, at what price they will engage to convey extra Posts or Expresses on Horseback on the Post Line for which they tender.

Payment will be made to the Contractor monthly, either at the Colonial Treasury in Cape Town, or by the Civil Commissioner of any Division he may select; provided the Contract Bond shall previously have been transmitted to this Office, duly completed, which Bond the Contractor will be required to execute in the presence of two competent Witnesses, together with two good and approved Sureties, to be provided by him, for the due fulfilment of the Contract; and he must accompany his Tender with a written engagement from his Sureties to bind themselves as such; as, also, with a Certificate from the Civil Commissioner or Resident Magistrate of the District in which he resides, as to the sufficiency of such Sureties. In the Tender, the names of the Contractor and his Sureties should be stated at full length, and their respective occupations should also be mentioned therein. The Security required will, in each case, be equal to the payment to be made by Government to the Contractor for one year of the Contract.

The Contractor will be required to provide his own means of conveyance for crossing rivers, without detention; and all penalties for delay, from whatever cause arising, will be rigidly exacted. Any party tendering is required to specify in his Tender the means to be adopted by him for crossing or avoiding swollen rivers, either by applying some contrivance, or leaving the usual line, and also the delay, if any, to be allowed on such occasions.

The Tenderers are required to convey the Mails in covered Carts on springs, conveyed by not fewer than two horses each.

The Contractor's Carts are to be light, but strong sufficiently large to contain the Mail Bags, and to be furnished with Waterproof Wells, or Boxes, with strong Locks and Keys, to hold the Mail Packets, for enclosing and securing which it will be necessary for the Contractor to supply Waterproof Bags; or, failing these, the Cart is to be supplied with Tarpaulins, to be strapped over it and over any Mail Packets that may have to be secured to it, and which are to be lashed on with good stout riems. The Carts to be provided with two good Lamps, with strong Reflectors, which are to be kept lighted at night when travelling.

The Contractor is bound, at his own expense, to provide the means of protecting the Mail Packets from the weather, or injury in transferring them from one Post Cart to another, on the line of road herein referred to, and will be held responsible for any damage which may occur to them whilst being transferred from his charge.

The Contractor will be at liberty to carry such number of Passengers or Parcels in the Mail Vehicle as he may think fit, and to make his own charge for the accommodation thus afforded; provided that part of the Box or Well of the Cart specially to be appropriated for the Mail shall not be mixed up with any other Packets, &c., not appertaining to such Mail.

But the Contractor will not be allowed to carry in his Vehicles, by himself or any of his Servants, any Letters or Newspapers, excepting those delivered to him by the respective Postmasters, or for delivery at any Post Office, nor are they knowingly to permit any Passenger to carry any Letter or Newspaper.

The Post Rider shall be provided by the Contractor with a Bugle or Horn, to be sounded when approaching any Post Office or Post Station.

For any detention of the Mail, or any part thereof, beyond the time specified for the distance allowed, the Contractor shall forfeit according to the following scale:

	£	s.	d.
For every period not exceeding half an hour -	0	2	6
„ half an hour, and not exceeding one hour -	0	7	6
„ one hour, and not exceeding an hour and a half - - - - - - - - - -	0	15	0
„ one hour and a half, and not exceeding two hours - - - - - - - - -	1	5	0
„ two hours, and not exceeding two hours and a half - - - - - - - - -	2	0	0

and for every additional half-hour beyond two hours and a half, the additional sum of Ten Shillings.

In the event of the Contractor failing or neglecting for three Posts in succession to convey the Mails within the time herein stipulated, the Postmaster-General for the time being, in that case, to have it in his power, should he so think fit, to advertise for Tenders for a new Contract without any reference to the clause for giving four months' notice for an earlier termination thereof (which clause is to be null and void); and any loss that may accrue by reason that the terms of the new Contract are higher than the terms of the old is to be borne by the Contractor

And inasmuch as serious irregularities have arisen from hanging Vehicles and shifting the Mails, the Contractor will have to bind himself that as often as any Post Boy of his shall receive any Mail Bags or Post Office Packets in to any Vehicle at any Post Office, such Bags and Packets shall be carried to their destination in that same Vehicle, and that none of the said Bags or Parcels shall, between the Post Office where the same were received and the Post Office where the same should be delivered, be shifted or removed from that Vehicle to any other Vehicle or mode of conveyance unless with the permission and in the presence of some Postmaster, or unless the Vehicle carrying the same shall, by accident or other cause arising after the same shall have been received, be rendered incapable of carrying on the Mail to its destination. And for any and every breach of this stipulation the Contractor will have to pay to the Postmaster-General for the time being whatever penalty he shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds sterling.

In case any Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail shall not be regularly delivered at the same time as the rest thereof, the Contractor shall be bound to pay to the Postmaster-General, for or in respect of every such lost or missing Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail, such sum as the said Postmaster shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds Sterling, unless the Contractor shall prove that such Bag, Packet, or other part of any such Mail was lost or delayed by inevitable accident against which it was impossible to guard. And the Contractor shall likewise be liable to the Postmaster-General, claiming on behalf of whom it may concern, to make good all loss or damage sustained by any Person whomsoever, by reason that any Mail or Bag, Parcel, or other part of any Mail, shall have been lost or delayed for want of due and proper care and diligence of the Contractor, or any person in his service.

Should the said Contractor fail in the performance of his agreement at any period during the existence of the same, then, and in that case, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General for the time being, and for all Persons thereto authorized by him, to hire, or cause to be hired such Person or Persons, Horse or Horses, as shall be required for the due performance thereof; and all and every expense attendant upon the same shall be borne and sustained by the said Contractor.

And it is lastly agreed that in case of any act of omission constituting a breach by the Contractor of any of the provisions or stipulations of this Contract, not being an act or omission for which any other particular penalty is hereinbefore provided, the Postmaster-General shall have the option of claiming from the Contractor, for and on account of every such act or omission, respectively, the payment of Ten Pounds Sterling, by way of assessed and liquidated damages, and not as a penalty; or otherwise, of claiming and recovering such further or other sum as the said Postmaster shall prove to be the amount of loss or damages actually sustained from or by reason of such act or omission.

The Contractor will be bound to provide a passage in his Mail Conveyance for an Officer of this Department, when travelling on public business, without charge, when required so to do.

Further information may be obtained on application at the Office of the Postmaster-General.

CHARLES PIERS, Postmaster-General.

[ACT No. 2 of 1870.]

AN ACT

TO

Amend the Law relating to the Protection of Seamen's Clothing and Property.

WHEREAS the clothing and property of soldiers are protected by the restraint of the sale thereof, and it is expedient to make the like provisions with respect to seamen's clothing and property: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. This Act may be cited as "The Seamen's Clothing Act, 1870."

II. The places to which this Act extends are the places specified in the schedule to this Act, and for the purposes of this Act the limits of those places shall be the limits specified in the second column of the said schedule.

III. In this Act the term "the Admiralty" means the Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom, or the Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral. The term "seaman" means every person not being a commissioned, warrant, or subordinate officer who is in or belongs to Her Majesty's Navy, and is borne on the books of any one of Her Majesty's ships in commission, and every person, not being an officer as aforesaid, who, being borne on the books of any hired vessels in Her Majesty's service in time of war, is by virtue of any Act for the time being in force for the discipline of the Navy, subject to the provisions of such Act. The term "seaman's property" means any clothes, slops, medals, and necessaries, or articles usually deemed to be necessaries for sailors on board ship which belong to any seaman.

IV. If any person in any place to which this Act extends detains, buys, exchanges, takes on pawn, or receives from any seaman, or any person acting for a seaman, any seaman's property, or solicits or entices any seaman, or is employed by any seaman, to sell, exchange, or pawn, any seaman's property, he shall, unless he proves that he acted in ignorance of the same being seaman's property, or of the person with whom he dealt being or acting for a seaman, or that the same was sold by order of the senior naval officer on the Cape of Good Hope station, be liable, on conviction before the resident magistrate of the district in which such place shall be situate, to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds sterling, and if convicted of a second offence, to a similar penalty, or, in the discretion of the court, to be imprisoned for a term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labour, subject always to the provisions of the eighth section of this Act.

V. If in any place to which this Act extends any seaman's property is found in the possession or keeping of any person, and he is taken or summoned before the resident magistrate of the district (which taking and summoning are hereby authorized), and such magistrate sees reasonable grounds for believing the property so found to have been stolen, or to have been detained, bought, exchanged, pawned, or otherwise received contrary to the provisions of this Act, then if such person does not satisfy the magistrate that he came by the seaman's property so found lawfully and without any contravention of this Act, he shall be liable, on conviction before such magistrate, to a penalty not exceeding five pounds sterling; and for the purposes of this section seaman's property shall be deemed to be in the possession or keeping of any person if he knowingly has any such property in the actual possession or keeping of any other person, or in any house, building, lodging apartment, field, or place, open or enclosed, whether occupied by himself or not, and whether the same are so had for his own use or benefit, or for the use or benefit of another.

VI. Every person who shall be convicted as an accessory in any offence under or in contravention of this Act, shall be liable to be punished in like manner as if he were a principal offender, and on every second or subsequent conviction shall be liable to be punished in like manner as if on a second or subsequent conviction for the principal offence; and every conviction of the principal offence, after the conviction of the same offender as an accessory shall be deemed a second or subsequent conviction for the principal offence, and every conviction as an accessory of any person who shall have been convicted of the principal offence shall be deemed a second or subsequent conviction.

VII. Seaman's property detained, bought, exchanged, pawned, or received, in contravention of this Act, shall, for the purposes of search warrant, be stolen property, within the provisions of section forty-two of Ordinance No. 40, and reasonable suspicion that any such property is concealed in any place shall, under the restrictions in such lastmentioned section contained, justify the issue of a search warrant as in such section is provided.

VIII. In default of the payment of any fine imposed on any offender under this Act such offender may be sentenced to imprisonment with or without hard labour, or with or without spare diet, subject to the Governor's regulations in respect thereof, for any period not exceeding three months.

IX. Nothing in this Act shall prevent any person from being indicted, or being liable under any other Act or otherwise to any other or higher penalty or punishment than is provided for any offence by this Act; provided, however, that no person be punished twice for the same offence.

I. So much of the twenty-eighth section of the Act No. 9, 1858, intituled "An Act to provide for the Management of the Public Roads of the Colony," and of any other law, as shall be repugnant to or inconsistent with any of the provisions of this Act, is hereby repealed.

II. All Crown lands already leased, or which shall hereafter be leased, under the provisions of the Act aforesaid, No. 19, 1864, shall, after the taking effect of this Act, be liable, so long as the same shall be under lease, to be assessed for road rates.

III. For the purpose of every such assessment of such Crown lands, the value of the lands comprised in any lease already made, or which shall hereafter be made under the provisions of the Act in the last preceding section mentioned, shall be deemed to be sixteen times the amount of the annual rent payable by or under such lease.

IV. All lands under any such lease as aforesaid, in any division, shall be assessed for road rates, together with and at the same time as the other lands in such division liable to assessment for road rates, and shall not be capable of being assessed separately from such other lands, nor at a different rate from such other lands.

V. The lessee of the lands comprised in any such lease as aforesaid shall alone be liable to be sued for the amount of any road rate assessed or imposed upon such lands, and it shall not be competent to proceed against the Colonial Government for the recovery of any such rate.

VI. Every lessee of any Crown land lying and being within any division, and leased under the provisions of the Act aforesaid, No. 19 of 1864, paying an annual rent of not less than thirty pounds sterling per annum, shall, unless disqualified under the provisions of the fourteenth section of the "Divisional Councils Act, 1865," be qualified to be elected as a member of the divisional council of such division, in like manner as if he were an owner of land, calculating every £6 of rent payable on his lease as equivalent to £100 in value of the land leased for the purpose of the qualification by ownership in the said Divisional Councils Act, 1865, mentioned; anything in the thirteenth section of the lastmentioned Act to the contrary notwithstanding: Provided that if any such lessee having become a member of any divisional council shall, during the time for which he was elected, cease to hold a qualification, either as lessee or owner, or partly as one and partly as the other, sufficient to qualify him for election as a member of such council, then, on his so ceasing to hold such qualification, he shall vacate his seat as such member.

AN ACT

TO

Regulate the Disposal of certain Agricultural Lands in this Colony.

WHEREAS it is expedient that increased facilities should be given to agriculturists and others of small means to become possessors of land on certain fair and reasonable conditions: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. So much of the Act No. 2, 1860, and of Act No. 19 of 1864, as is repugnant to or inconsistent with any of the provisions of this Act, shall be, and the same is hereby repealed.

II. The Governor may from time to time cause to be surveyed agricultural areas, taken from the Crown land of this Colony, such areas being as well watered as possible.

III. Such areas shall be surveyed in allotments of not more than five hundred acres, due regard being had to the capabilities of the ground.

IV. When the survey of any such area is complete, it shall be lawful for the Governor to proclaim that the lands therein situated will within a certain time be open for selection in the manner and terms herein set forth.

V. The land comprised in any such proclaimed area shall thenceforth be open for selection either by absolute purchase or by conditional purchase in the manner hereinafter set forth.

VI. When any person desires to select any allotment in such agricultural area for conditional purchase, he may make a written application for such allotment to the civil commissioner of the district within which such area shall be situated, in the form set forth in the schedule hereunto annexed, and on paying the first year's rent for such allotment, and if no other application shall have been made for the same allotment, he shall become a conditional purchaser of such allotment

VII. In the event of two or more applications being received by the civil commissioner on the same day, for the same allotment, the civil commissioner of the district in which such land is situated shall appoint a day upon which the applicants are to attend before him, either in person or by an agent duly authorized in writing, and such allotment shall then be put up to be competed for by the said applicants, at an upset rent of one shilling per acre, and the highest bidder shall on payment of the first year's rent, together with such premium as he shall offer thereon, be declared the conditional purchaser.

VIII. The person who shall be declared the conditional purchaser of any allotment shall receive a lease on the following terms and conditions:

1. The term shall be for ten years, commencing from the first payment of rent.
2. The yearly rent shall be at the rate of one shilling per acre, or in the case above provided for by the sixth clause, at such sum as may have been bid by such conditional purchaser.
3. The rent for the second and each succeeding year shall be paid in advance into the office of the civil commissioner of the division in which such area is situated.
4. The lessee shall be bound within two years of obtaining such lease to cultivate at least one acre of every ten acres, or to erect a suitable dwelling-house thereon.
5. On failure of any of the conditions hereinbefore contained, the lease shall be forfeited, and the land and the improvements thereon shall revert to Government, but no forfeiture for non-payment of rent shall be enforced, provided such rent be paid into the office of the civil commissioner of the division within ninety days from the same becoming due: Provided, further, that when the lease of any such lands shall be forfeited as aforesaid, such lease shall be put up to sale by public auction within one hundred and eighty days of such forfeiture, and after deducting from the amount for which such lease shall be sold the arrears of rent and all other sums due or which may be due to the Government, as well as all expenses incurred in holding such sale, the sum of money remaining, if any, shall be paid to the lessee or to his lawful representatives.
6. So soon as a lessee shall have made the tenth annual payment of rent, he shall, on payment of the survey expenses and other expenses of title, receive a grant of the land at a perpetual quitrent of one per cent. per annum upon ten years' value thereof; provided, however, that in no case shall the quitrent chargeable be less than ten shillings per annum.
7. If at any time during the term of such lease the lessee shall pay into the civil commissioner's office the rent for the unexpired portion of such term, he shall receive a grant of the land under perpetual quitrent as aforesaid.

IX. Any person who, having selected an allotment in the manner hereinbefore provided, shall forthwith pay the whole purchase money thereof, at the rate of ten years' annual rent, and the expenses of survey and title, shall receive a grant of the said allotment on a perpetual quitrent as aforesaid.

X. It shall not be lawful for any one person or partnership to become, under the provisions of this Act, the lessee or holder of more than five hundred acres of land.

XI. This Act may be cited for all purposes as the "Agricultural Lands Act, 1870."

AN ACT

TO

Amend, in certain respects, the Act No. 19 of 1864, intituled "An Act to provide for the Leasing of Crown Lands and other purposes."

WHEREAS it is expedient that the Act No. 19 of 1864, commonly called "The Crown Lands Act, 1864," should be amended as hereinafter is provided: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. It shall be lawful for the lessees of Crown lands leased under the provisions of the said Act No. 19 of 1864, at any time during the continuance of their respective leases, to purchase the property in the lands held by them respectively on lease, at such price as may be agreed on by and between such lessees respectively of the one part and the Colonial Government of the other part, not being in any case less than a sum which, reckoned as a principal sum after the rate of six pounds sterling per cent., would produce an amount of yearly interest equal to the rent reserved on such lease: Provided that in the event of the price demanded by Government being greater than such principal sum, in such case, at the request of the lessee, the matter may be submitted to arbitration, one arbitrator to be appointed by the lessee and one by the Government, with power to appoint a third as umpire, subject to the following conditions, that is to say:

1. In all sales of land under this Act the purchaser shall, in addition to the purchase price, pay to the Colonial Government an annual quitrent of one pound sterling for every one hundred pounds on the purchase amount, such annual quitrent to be paid in perpetuity.
2. The purchase money so to be paid as aforesaid, according to agreement, may be paid in cash, at the option of the purchaser, so soon as the amount shall be agreed upon, and such purchaser may upon payment thereof require a grant of title upon quitrent to the said lands theretofore held by him upon lease, which grant it shall be lawful for the Governor to make.

3. If the purchaser shall not forthwith pay the full amount of purchase money agreed upon in cash so soon as the said amount shall be agreed upon, he shall be allowed to pay the same in manner following, that is to say, by three annual instalments,—the first to be paid forthwith so soon as the amount of purchase money shall be agreed upon as aforesaid, and the other two at intervals of one year respectively.
4. If the purchaser shall fail to pay the second or subsequent instalments when the same shall become payable respectively, the money already paid by him shall be returned to him, deducting thereout, by way of liquidated damages for the breach of the contract to purchase, a sum equivalent to five pounds sterling per cent. on such amount of the purchase money as shall remain unpaid, together with such sum, if any, as may be due for rent and other charges, if any, upon the said land, under or by virtue of the lease thereof; and the said lease shall, unless otherwise vitiated, be regarded as though the same were all along subsisting without any contract for purchase or sale having subsisted with regard to the same lands.
5. Until the entire purchase money shall be paid, the purchaser shall continue to pay rent under and by virtue of his lease, and to perform the other conditions, if any, of the same, which shall be deemed to be a subsisting lease, notwithstanding any such contract for purchase as aforesaid unless vitiated otherwise under the terms thereof, or of the said Act No. 19 of 1864.
6. Upon the payment by the purchaser, at the stated times agreed on, of all the purchase money, and of all rents and other payments due in respect of the said lease, he shall be allowed interest after the rate of six pounds per cent. per annum in respect of the several instalments of the purchase money deposited by him from the date of the deposit thereof, respectively, until such date of payment; and thereupon he shall be deemed from thenceforward as proprietor on quitrent of the land so purchased, and may require forthwith a grant of title upon quitrent to the said lands theretofore held by him upon lease, which grant it shall be lawful for the Governor to make.
7. In fixing the value of the land applied for under the above conditions, the value of the industrial improvements made by the lessee who applies shall not be taken into consideration.

II. All such sums of money as shall from time to time be paid by such lessees as aforesaid under the provisions of this Act to the Colonial Government shall be kept to a separate account, which shall be charged with such repayments as in the former section are mentioned to such lessees as shall have failed to become purchasers entitled to immediate grant as aforesaid; and the balance from time to time standing to the credit of such account shall be paid over to the Commissioners for the time being of the Sinking Fund created by Act No. 9 of 1864, to be applied for the purposes by the said lastmentioned Act defined, as part of the said Sinking Fund.

Given at Government House, this 5th day of May, 1870.

R. SOUTHEY, Colonial Secretary.

AN ACT

TO

Consolidate the Public Debts of the Colony payable in England.

WHEREAS the public debts of this Colony made payable in England amount in all to a sum of one million four hundred and twenty-three thousand four hundred pounds, with interest, whereof divers sums are payable, respectively, at divers times from the thirty-first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy, to the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred, respectively, as will more fully appear in the statement thereof contained in the schedule hereto: And whereas provision has been already made for the payment of the sum of fifty thousand pounds sterling, due and payable in the course of the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy, and there remains the sum of one million three hundred and seventy-three thousand four hundred pounds, with the interest thereon, to be provided for: And whereas there is good reason to believe that the said debts, other than the said debt of fifty thousand pounds sterling last before mentioned, may be consolidated with advantage to this Colony, and that provision may be made by which the same may be fully consolidated, and by which, at the same time, the yearly interest thereon may be paid and the debts themselves may be gradually extinguished, so that within a term of thirty-seven years the same may be altogether discharged by means of an annual charge on the revenues of the Colony continued during the said term of thirty-seven years, not exceeding the sum of ninety thousand pounds: And whereas it is expedient that such consolidation should be effected as far as possible: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. It shall be lawful for the Governor to appoint the Agents-General for the time being for the Crown Colonies in England, or such other person or persons as to him shall seem fit, as agents for the conversion of the said debts.

II. It shall be lawful, for the purposes of such conversion, for the Governor, through such agent or agents, to raise and take up upon debentures, subject to such terms and conditions as shall seem best calculated to effect such conversion on the best terms for the Colony, such sum or sums of money as may be necessary to effect the same: Provided that the annual charge to be thereby imposed on the public revenues of the Colony for the purposes of paying the interest and providing for the extinction of the entire of the debt thereby created shall not at any time exceed such sum as, together with the interest due on the said public debts intended to be consolidated, and for the time being remaining unconverted and unconsolidated, shall amount to a sum of ninety thousand pounds sterling yearly: And provided, also, that the terms on which such debentures shall be issued by the Governor as aforesaid shall provide for the complete extinction of the entire debt thereby created within the term of thirty-seven years, by means of such annual charge as aforesaid on the revenues of the Colony; after which period such annual charge shall cease and determine, unless Parliament shall otherwise direct.

III. The Governor shall, through such agent or agents as aforesaid, and subject to the conditions in the last foregoing section mentioned, have full power to prescribe the mode and conditions of repayment of the loan to be taken up on such debentures as are hereby authorized, and the terms and conditions of such debentures, and the time and place of such repayment, and the rate of interest thereon, and the time and place for payment of such interest.

IV. All sums of money borrowed under the authority of this Act, and the debentures upon which the same shall be raised respectively, shall be charged and chargeable on the revenues of this Colony.

V. Interest after the rate of five pounds sterling per centum shall be payable on such debentures as may be issued under the authority of this Act, and shall be charged and chargeable on the revenues of this Colony as next hereinafter mentioned.

VI. As a fund for the payment of such interest and for the gradual extinction of the debt to be raised under authority of this Act, there shall be charged and chargeable upon, and set apart out of, the annual revenues of this Colony an annual sum equal to the interest on the whole amount of such debentures as shall be issued under authority of this Act, and a further sum equal to one pound sterling per centum on the total amount of the principal or capital sum which shall be raised under the authority of this Act; and such sum shall be annually charged on and payable out of the revenues of the Colony so long as any portion of the debt to be raised under authority of this Act, or any interest thereon, shall remain unpaid and unextinguished; and such annual charge shall, so soon as such debt and interest shall have been all paid and extinguished, cease and determine.

VII. Such portion of the fund which shall under the last foregoing section be charged and chargeable annually on the revenues of the Colony as shall not be required for the payment of the interest for the time being due upon the debentures to be issued under authority of this Act, or for the necessary expenses of such consolidation and conversion as aforesaid, shall be applied in redeeming and cancelling the debentures to be raised under authority of this Act, in such manner and form as shall be provided by the terms and conditions whereon and whereunder such debentures shall be issued respectively.

VIII. All moneys to be raised under the authority of this Act shall be accounted for in a separate account, and shall be applied towards the conversion and consolidation, redemption, payment, and discharge of the said several public debts of this Colony proposed to be consolidated, and to no other purpose; but it shall be lawful thereout to pay the necessary charges of effecting such conversion, consolidation, redemption, payment, and discharge.

IX. The Governor may, through such agent or agents as aforesaid, accept in payment for the debentures to be issued under the authority of this Act any debentures of the Government of this Colony specified in the schedule hereto, at such rates and on such terms as may be fixed by the Governor through such agent or agents as aforesaid; and all such rates and terms shall be notified by public advertisement in the London Gazette and in the Government Gazette of this Colony.

X. All the powers which under this Act may be exercised by the Governor through such agent or agents as aforesaid may be also exercised, wholly or in part, by any person or persons to whom such powers shall have been, wholly or in part, delegated by such agent or agents as aforesaid, subject to the conditions of such delegation imposed thereon by the person so delegating such powers.

XI. All such debentures of the Government of this Colony which shall be redeemed, or purchased, or converted under the authority of this Act, or by means of the moneys raised thereunder, and which are chargeable on the general revenues only of this Colony, shall immediately on the receipt thereof be cancelled by such agent or agents as aforesaid, and shall by him or them as soon as may be thereafter be transmitted to the Treasurer-General of the Colony.

XII. All such debentures of the Government of this Colony which shall be redeemed, or purchased, or converted under the authority of this Act, or by means of the moneys raised thereunder, which are chargeable on any funds other than and in addition to the general revenue of this Colony shall be ceded by the holder thereof to the Treasurer-General of this Colony, and shall as soon as may be after the receipt thereof by such agent or agents as aforesaid, be transmitted to such Treasurer-General, to be by him held on account of the general revenue of this Colony, as a security against such funds other than such general revenue.

XIII. A full account of all the moneys from time to time raised under the provisions of this Act, and of the application thereof, and of all debentures redeemed, or purchased, or converted by means thereof, shall be from time to time laid on the table of both Houses of Parliament at the commencement of each session thereof, or so soon thereafter as the same shall be prepared.

XIV. This Act may be cited for all purposes as "The Public Debt Consolidation Act, 1870."

AN ACT

FOR

Granting to Her Majesty in her Colonial Revenue certain Duties on Houses.

WHEREAS it is expedient that the public revenue of this Colony be increased by the imposition of certain duties on houses as hereinafter is provided: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. For the purposes of this Act, the word "house" shall be construed to mean every distinct and separate habitation occupied by human beings, and also every house, warehouse, counting-house, shop, mill, factory, work-shop, engine-house, store, or office, used as a place of business, although not occupied as a habitation. This definition of the word "house" shall be subject to and modified by the rules in the next succeeding section set forth.

II. In reference to what shall be deemed to be houses liable to duty under this Act, and in reference to the valuation of such houses, the following rules shall be observed, that is to say:

A. No store upon any wine farm used only for storing the wine or spirits made upon such farm, and no store upon any farm used only for storing the produce of such farm shall, although such wines, spirits, or produce may be sold at such store, be deemed to be a place of business, so as to be liable to duty as such; but every such store shall be valued as if part and parcel of the dwelling-house of the occupier of such farm.

B. Every stable, coach-house, and out-building, no part of which shall be occupied by human beings as a dwelling or be occupied as a place of business, shall be valued as if part and parcel of the dwelling-house to which it belongs.

C. As often as a servant of the occupier of any dwelling-house, or any other person, shall reside in part of any stable, coach-house, or out-building belonging to such dwelling-house, and such part shall be divided off from the remainder of the building by a wall or other partition, then, whether there shall or shall not be a door, doorway, or other opening in such wall or partition, communicating internally with the remainder of the building, the part so divided off as a residence shall be deemed to be a house liable to duty, and the same shall be valued according to its value considered as separate from the remainder of the building, and the remainder of the building, if not liable to duty under this Act as a place of business, shall be valued as if part and parcel of the dwelling-house to which it belongs. Should the remainder of such building be liable to duty under this Act as a place of business, then, if there be no such internal communication as aforesaid, both the residence and the place of business shall be liable to duty, and each shall be separately valued for such duty; but should such an internal communication exist, the whole building, including the part used as a residence, shall be valued for duty as if one single and undivided place of business; and such duty shall be payable by the occupier of the remainder of the building occupied as a place of business, and not by the occupier of the residence.

D. If two or more buildings within a radius of fifty yards from the centre of the principal building be together occupied by one family as a dwelling, then, whether such buildings do or do not communicate with each other by one or more enclosed and covered passages leading from one into the other, those buildings shall, for the purpose of this Act, be valued together, and their united values shall be regarded as the value of one house, and shall be liable to duty as the value of one house. The term "family" shall, for the purpose of this rule, embrace the persons following, and the servants of any of them, viz.:

1. Husband and wife, and the ascendants and descendants of both or either of them, living with them, and paying no rent for any of the said buildings.
2. Widower or widow, and the ascendants and descendants of such widower or widow, or of any deceased spouse of such widower or widow, living with such widower or widow, and paying no rent for any of the said buildings.
3. The holder of a certificate of citizenship, his wife or reputed wife or wives, and his children or remoter descendants, as ascertained or recognized by native law or custom.
4. No descendant, being or having been married, and who shall reside as the head, or as the wife of the head, of a distinct family in any building separate from the principal dwelling-house (although within the radius aforesaid) shall be deemed to live with or belong to the family occupying the principal dwelling-house, and such separate building shall be liable to duty as a separate house, although such descendant may pay no rent for such building.

E. If two or more buildings within a radius of fifty yards from the centre of the principal building shall all be occupied as places of business by the same person, whether such person shall carry on in each such building the same description of business or not, then all such buildings, whether they do or do not communicate with each other internally, or by enclosed and covered passages leading from one into the other or others, shall pay duty as one house upon the united values of such buildings.

F. What shall be deemed to be the "principal building" for the purpose of this Act shall be determined by general repute; and failing any such general repute, then the building of the greatest value shall be deemed to be the principal building.

G. When one building shall be partitioned and divided into parts, so that there shall not be, by means of any door or opening, any internal communication between such parts, and each or any of such parts shall be occupied as a dwelling by a person or family other than the person or family or persons or families occupying the other part or parts, then each part of such building shall be regarded as a separate house, and be liable to duty as such. In case one or more of the parts of any such divided building as aforesaid shall be occupied as a dwelling, and any other part as a place of business (whether such business be that of the occupier of the part or parts used as a dwelling or not), then the part or parts occupied as a dwelling shall be valued for duty as a separate house or as separate houses (as the case may be), and the part or parts occupied as a place of business shall also be valued for duty as a separate house or as separate houses (as the case may be).

H. Should there be between the parts of any building such as is described in letter G an internal communication by means of a door or opening, or enclosed and covered passage leading from one part into the other or others, then the whole building shall be valued as one house, no matter whether the parts be occupied by one person or by different persons. But the duty upon such house shall be recoverable from that occupier of any of the parts, who, if distinct in interest from the other occupier or occupiers, shall, in the absence of any agreement to the contrary, be entitled to claim contribution from the other occupier or occupiers; such contribution to bear the same proportion to the duty paid as the value of the part or parts called on to contribute bears or bear to the whole value of the building.

I. When any room of any house, whether such room be on the ground floor or on an upper story, shall not communicate by any internal opening with the rest of the house, and can only be entered from without, such room shall, if occupied by a person paying rent for the same as a separate apartment, be deemed to be a separate house, and be liable to duty as such, but if not so occupied, it shall be valued as part and parcel of the house of which it is a room, and not separately from such house.

J. In valuing, for the purpose of this Act, any house occupied together with a farm, or garden, or other land, the valuator will, as a general rule, first take into account the fair marketable value of the house and land together, should such value be known to him, and then estimate, according to the best of his skill and knowledge, what proportion of such value justly belongs to or arises from the house, regarded as distinct from the land.

K. Schools for gratuitous education, museums, sailors' homes, and generally all buildings used for charitable purposes, public hospitals, public libraries, and town-halls, shall not, except as to such portion or portions thereof as may be occupied as a dwelling-house or dwelling-houses, be deemed to be habitations or places of business for the purposes of this Act.

L. No hut not exceeding in value the sum of forty shillings situated on any part of any farm, and occupied temporarily as a place of shelter by any servant in charge of stock when grazing at a distance from the homestead, or in charge of growing crops, shall, in case such servant shall have a permanent residence at some other part of such farm, be deemed to be a habitation liable to duty.

III. Upon every house within this Colony, wherever situated, which shall have been occupied as a dwelling or as a place of business for not less than ninety days, whether consecutive or otherwise, within the space of twelve months next before the day of the service upon the occupier or owner of such house (as the case may be) of such notice as is in the tenth section of this Act mentioned, there shall be payable to Her Majesty in her colonial revenue, upon the day which shall in that shall be specified in such notice, and afterwards upon the first day of July of every year during the subsistence of this Act, a duty according to the value of such house upon the following scale, that is to say:

	£	s.	d.
On every house not exceeding in value £100	0	5	0
On every house exceeding in value £100, and not exceeding £500	0	10	0
On every house exceeding in value £500, and not exceeding £1,000	1	0	0
On every house exceeding in value £1,000, then for every £500 and fraction of £500 of such excess, an additional duty of	0	10	0

IV. Every house shall prima facie be held to have been occupied for the space of ninety days, as in the last preceding section mentioned, unless the contrary be proved by the person liable to the duty on such house.

V. No house already subject to hut tax under or by virtue of the Act No. 2 of 1869 shall be liable to the duty imposed by this Act.

VI. In any case in which the land on which any house shall stand is a building lot situated within a native location subject to an annual quitrent of two shillings and six pence sterling, and held under title in conjunction with a garden lot, within such location, not exceeding in extent fifteen acres, and subject to an annual quitrent of not less than ten shillings sterling, then and in every such case, no duty shall be payable under the provisions of this Act unless there shall be standing thereon a house exceeding in value one hundred pounds sterling, or unless there shall be more than one house standing thereon, in which last case the house which is valued at the lowest sum, and no other, shall be exempted from such duty as aforesaid.

VII. The duty by this Act imposed shall be due and payable by the occupier of the house upon which such duty is charged, in case such house shall, in the year in which this Act shall first take effect, be occupied on the day of the valuation of such house for the purpose of this Act, and in case, in regard to each succeeding year, it shall be occupied on the first day of July in such year. And every person shall be deemed to be the occupier on any such day as aforesaid who shall then be entitled to the possession of the house in question, although such person may not then be in actual possession of such house. As often as there shall not be on any such day any person other than the owner of such house then entitled to the possession of such house, the owner of such house shall be the person liable for the payment of the duty upon such house. But nothing in this Act contained shall make any person liable for duty upon any house which shall not have been occupied for the space of ninety days, as in the third section of this Act specified.

VIII. It shall be lawful for the Governor to appoint, by notice in the Government Gazette, fit and proper persons to value the houses in each division of the Colony for the purpose of this Act, and for that purpose to call for tenders from persons willing to value the same. But the Governor shall not be bound to appoint the person who shall tender to perform such duty at the lowest rate of payment, and shall be at liberty to appoint the same valuator for more divisions than one, or to appoint different valuators for different parts of the same division, if the Governor shall deem it advisable so to do. The municipalities of Cape Town and Green Point shall be deemed for the purposes of this Act to be within the division of the Cape.

IX. It shall be the duty of the valuator for every division, or any part thereof, to value for the duty imposed by this Act the houses situated in such division, or any part thereof; and for the purpose of making such valuation, it shall be lawful for such valuator, or any person authorized by him, in writing, to make such valuation, to enter at all reasonable hours, upon any working day, upon any lands in order to value any house situated on such lands, but he shall not be entitled, except by permission, to enter such house; and any person who shall by force and violence, or by threats of force or violence, resist, molest, oppose, hinder, or obstruct such valuator, or any person authorized by him as aforesaid, whilst lawfully employed in and about assessing the value of any house, shall, upon conviction, be liable to a fine not exceeding ten pounds, and in default of payment to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding one month; without prejudice to the prosecution of such person, in ordinary form of law, for the crime of assault, or for any greater crime which such person may have committed in the course of such resistance and obstruction as aforesaid. But no person prosecuted for a contravention of this section shall be afterwards prosecuted for any other crime alleged to have been committed by means of the same act constituting such contravention; and, conversely, no person prosecuted for such other crime shall be afterwards prosecuted for any contravention of this section, and alleged to have been committed by means of the same act constituting such other crime. Should the valuator or any person authorized by him in writing to value any house request permission to enter such house for the purpose of better ascertaining its value, and the occupier of such house, or the inmates thereof, refuse such permission, it shall not be lawful for such occupier to object to the valuation of such house: Provided such valuation have been made bonâ fide, and that it be not gressly excessive: Provided, also, that every person authorized as aforesaid shall be bound, upon demand made by the owner or occupier of any lands upon which such person shall have entered or shall be about to enter, to show his written authority for so doing; and failing the production of such authority, it shall be lawful for such owner or occupier to prevent such person from entering upon such lands, or continuing thereon, as the case may be.

X. It shall be the duty of every valuator, as soon as possible after his appointment, to value each house liable to duty, within the division, or any part thereof, for which he shall have been appointed, and to serve, or cause to be served, on the occupier of every such house, if any person other than the owner thereof shall then be in occupation thereof, and if not, then on the owner thereof, a notice, written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, which notice shall be in substance as follows:

Division of ————

To ————

Take notice that the house (or if the building be not a dwelling-house, say "the premises") in your occupation, and at which this notice is delivered, has been valued for house duty at the sum of £———, and that such duty, being £———, must be paid to the civil commissioner of this division on or before the ———— day of ————, 18— (here insert some day being as near as may be ninety days from the day of the service of the notice). Should you deem the above valuation too high, you will be at liberty to appear before the civil commissioner of the division, either in person or by some person authorized by you in writing, at the court-room of the resident magistrate, on the ——— day of ———, 18—, at ——— o'clock in the forenoon, with your witnesses, if you have any, and to prove your objection. Failing such appearance and proof, the valuation aforesaid will become fixed.

Dated this ——— day of ———, 18—.

(Signed) A. B, Valuator.

As often as any such notice shall be served upon any owner, who is not the occupier, then the form of such notice shall be altered accordingly. The same day shall, if practicable, be inserted in all the notices served in the same division as the day for the appearance of objectors before the civil commissioner. If it be impracticable to name the same day in all such notices, and a second day must be inserted in some of such notices, then as many notices as possible shall specify that second day, and so on, in case it shall be necessary to specify a day or days more than two. The day to be inserted in the foregoing notice for the appearance before the civil commissioner shall be a day not earlier than thirty days, nor later than sixty-five days next after the day of the service of such notice.

XI. Every such notice on an occupier shall be served on such occupier personally by showing him the original notice, and leaving with him a copy, and explaining to him the nature of such notice, or, if personal service cannot reasonably be effected, then by showing to some inmate of the house so liable to duty the said original notice, and leaving with such inmate a copy thereof, and explaining to him the nature thereof, and if no such service as aforesaid can be reasonably effected then by leaving a copy of such notice in the said house, or by affixing a copy to the door or other conspicuous part of such house, and the person serving the same shall enter on the back of the original notice a memorandum of the service and of the manner in which the same was effected.

XII. Every such notice, if on an owner not being himself in occupation of such house as aforesaid, shall be served in like manner as in the last foregoing section is provided, in respect of service on an occupier, save that service on the owner, if not personal, shall be made at his usual or last known place of abode, and if no inmate can be found therein, then at the house, the subject of the duty, as well as such owner's usual or last known place of abode, if the same can be found, by leaving at each of such places, or affixing to the doors or other conspicuous part thereof respectively, a copy of such notice as aforesaid, and in case the usual or last known place of abode of such owner cannot be found, then service at the house, the subject of the duty, made as aforesaid, shall be sufficient service; in every case the person making the service shall enter on the back of the original notice a memorandum of the service and of the manner in which the same was effected.

XIII. The valuator aforesaid shall give notice to the civil commissioner of his division of the day named in the notices aforesaid for the appearance of objectors, and where the same day shall not be named in all such notices, then of the other day or days named in any such notices, and upon the day or days named in all or any of such notices, the civil commissioner, if a resident magistrate, shall attend in the court-room used by him as resident magistrate, for the purpose of hearing and deciding upon objections to the valuations made by the valuator, and the said civil commissioner shall hear what shall be urged by or on behalf of the person objecting, and by or on behalf of the valuator, and may, if necessary, take evidence upon oath (which oath such civil commissioner is hereby authorized to administer), and shall confirm or reduce such valuation as justice shall require; and the valuation as fixed by such civil commissioner shall, for the time being, be binding and conclusive: Provided that the civil commissioner may adjourn the hearing upon any objection or objections as circumstances may require. And such valuator shall, before the day or days specified in such notices as aforesaid for the appearance of objectors before the civil commissioner of the division, frame an assessment roll showing the value of the several houses valued by such valuator, and the names of the occupiers and owners thereof respectively, and transmit such roll to such civil commissioner, at whose office it shall remain for the inspection of all persons whom such valuation may concern. The civil commissioner of the Cape division shall, for the purposes of this section, attend in the court-room of the resident magistrate of Cape Town.

XIV. The occupier of any house liable to the paymment of duty under this Act, and the owner of any such house, who, not being the occupier of such house, shall be liable to pay the duty upon such house by reason that such house shall have been occupied for not less than the number of days in the third section of this Act mentioned, shall be and is hereby required to pay, or cause to be paid, to the civil commissioner of the division in which such house is situated, the duty for the year in which this Act shall first take effect on or before the day in that behalf specified in the notice served as aforesaid upon such occupier or owner, and to pay the duty for every succeeding year on or before the first day of July in such year, without fresh valuation or notice.

XV. It shall be lawful for the civil commissioner of any division, with the previous sanction of the Governor, to appoint by notice in the Government Gazette some fit and proper person, hereinafter termed "collector," to collect the duties payable under this Act, and, from time to time, any such appointment to cancel and annul, and make a fresh appointment, as circumstances may require. One person may be appointed collector for the whole of a division or for only a part thereof, and different persons for different parts. And every such collector shall after the expiration of any su h space of ninety days as in the next succeeding section mentioned, but not sooner, enter upon his duties as such collector, and exercise the powers hereinafter conferred upon him. And such collectors shall, respectively, be remunerated in such manner as the Governor shall, in regard to such division in which any collector shall be appointed, deem reasonable and approve of.

XVI. Should any person liable for the payment of duty under this Act make default in the payment thereof to the civil commissioner as aforesaid, in the year in which this Act shall first take effect for the space of ninety days next after the day specified for payment in the notice in the tenth section mentioned, or in any subsequent year for the space of ninety days next after the first day of July in such year, then such person shall be liable to pay, in addition to the duty in regard to which he shall have made default, an additional sum equal to one-fifth of such duty; and such additional sum shall, together with the original duty, be deemed to be the duty payable under this Act, and be recoverable as such by any of the means provided by this Act for the recovery of duties.

XVII. Every such duty as aforesaid may be enforced by the collector entitled to collect the same either by action in the ordinary way, or by seizing in a summary way, to answer the amount of the duties as aforesaid, and the costs of levy and seizure and subsequent proceedings, a sufficient amount of the cattle, stock, and other movable property of the person or persons liable to pay the same, and if payment shall not be made within fourteen days after such seizure, sufficient of such cattle, stock, and other movable property to answer the demand and the costs of levy and seizure and sale shall be sold by public auction, unless before such sale shall have been actually made the person or persons claiming such cattle, stock, and movable property shall commence in some competent court an action for the recovery of such cattle, stock, and movable property, and shall also find and give sufficient security to prosecute such action without delay, and to abide by and perform the judgment of the court in the premises, which judgment, if adverse to the plaintiff, may be not only for the amount of the duties as aforesaid for which such seizure shall have been made, but also for the costs of such levy and seizure lawfully incurred up to the time of such security as aforesaid being duly given, as well as for the costs of the action itself.

XVIII. Upon such security as in the last clause mentioned being given and approved by the court in which the action for the recovery of the said cattle, stock, and movable property shall have been commenced, the said cattle, stock, and movable property shall be re-delivered to the person claiming the same.

XIX. Upon default made in the year in which this Act shall first take effect by the occupier of any house, not being the owner thereof, in the payment within ninety days next after such time as shall be specified in the notice in the tenth section set forth for the payment of the duty payable upon such house, or, in any succeeding year, within ninety days from the first day of July in such year, the collector may serve upon the owner of such house a notice informing him of such default as aforesaid, and calling upon him to pay to the said collector such duty as shall be payable in respect of such house at such time and place as shall be specified in such last-mentioned notice; and every such owner who shall, after such last-mentioned notice shall have been served upon him, leave such duty unpaid for the space of sixty days after the service of such notice shall be liable to be sued for such duty in any competent court. Service of such last-mentioned notice shall be made in like manner as that in the twelfth section provided in regard to the notice therein mentioned. But no such owner shall be liable for any payment under the provisions of this section unless such last-mentioned notice shall be served upon him before the first day of July in the year next succeeding the year in which the occupier shall have made default, nor shall such owner be liable for any such payment unless the collector suing for the same shall prove to the satisfaction of the court in which such action shall be brought that the duty sued for could not by reasonable diligence have been recovered from the occupier in default. The process by seizure of property, as in the seventeenth section mentioned, shall not be capable of being enforced against any owner by reason or on account of any liability created by this section; and every such owner, paying any duty under this section, shall be entitled to recover the same from the occupier in default, and shall, for the purpose of such recovery, possess all the powers conferred upon the collector by the seventeenth section of this Act.

XX. The Governor shall, within thirty days after the meeting of Parliament in each year, cause to be laid on the table of both Houses a return showing the amount received under this Act in each division of the Colony, specifying the sums received in each ward into which the division may be divided for the elections for the divisional council, distinguishing the sums received under each duty of the scale set forth in section three of this Act; and showing also the amount under each duty which may, at the date of the preparation of such return, be then due and unpaid, and the number and value of the houses in each ward liable to each duty of the scale aforesaid.

XXI. This Act shall continue in force until the thirty-first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, and no longer, except in so far as relates to the recovery of any duties which may then be unpaid.

XXII. This Act may be cited for all purposes as "The House Duty Act, 1870."

Given at Government House, this 5th day of May, 1870.

By command of His Excellency the Governor,

R. SOUTHEY, Colonial Secretary.

TO

Provide for the Management of Native Locations and other Communities, and for the regulation of Rights of Commonage.

WHEREAS in times past various tracts of land have, by the Government of this Colony, been sold to, or otherwise set apart for the use of the individuals or communities to whom the same were assigned, together with rights of commonage and water over certain other lands adjoining the same respectively: And whereas it is desirable to establish rules for the good management of such communities, and for the due regulation of all commonage and water rights appertaining to any lands so heretofore alienated or set apart, in all cases in which the same shall not be already subject to municipal regulations, or to other regulations lawfully enacted by the authority of the Legislature: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. It shall be lawful for the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, in the case of any community or tract of land circumstanced in the manner described in the preamble hereto, from time to time to make, alter, and amend all such regulations as may be required for the preservation of the health of such community, for the proper control and equitable distribution of all streams and springs of water belonging to the same or to the use of which such community may be entitled, for the due management of the commonage and regulation and protection of the rights of pasturage thereon, including provisions giving to travellers rights of outspanning upon such common lands upon reasonable payment, and powers of requiring reasonable payment from such individuals or members of such communities as aforesaid as shall enjoy more largely or more beneficially than others such common rights as aforesaid, and the power to impound all cattle and other animals trespassing on such common lands as aforesaid, for the preservation of the timber and brushwood growing on such commonage, and for the prevention and removal of nuisances within the limits of any tract described as aforesaid. And all moneys receivable under this section shall be administered for the common benefit of such community as aforesaid.

II. It shall be lawful for such rules and regulations, framed by the Governor as aforesaid, to provide that persons contravening any such rules or regulations may, on conviction, be sentenced by the resident magistrate of the district to imprisonment with or without hard labour for any term provided by such rules and regulations not exceeding one month, or to pay a fine not exceeding five pounds sterling, and in default of payment thereof to such imprisonment, with or without hard labour, and all fines so to be levied shall be paid into the public treasury.

III. All rules and regulations which shall be made in conformity with the provisions of this Act, as well as all alterations and amendments of the same, shall be published in the Government Gazette, and shall thereupon have the force of law for all purposes mentioned therein and allowed hereby.

Given at Government House, this 5th day of May, 1870.

By command of His Excellency the Governor,

R. SOUTHEY, Colonial Secretary.

TENDERS FOR THE CONVEYANCE OF MAILS.

General Post Office, Cape Town,
21st March, 1870.

NOTICE is hereby given that Sealed Tenders addressed to the Honourable the Auditor-General, and marked "Tender for Inland Mails," will be received by that Officer until Thursday, 2nd June, 1870, at 12 noon, for the conveyance of the following Mails:

Somerset and Bedford, viâ Cookhouse Drift, three times a week each way by Cart (Passenger or other), in six hours.

The Contract to commence from Wednesday, 13th July, to expire on 31st December, 1872.

Middelburg and Graaff-Reinet, in fourteen hours once a week each way, to commence on 1st August, 1870, and expire 31st December, 1872.

If a Tender for this line be accepted, either of the contracting parties will be at liberty to terminate the same upon giving four months' notice, in writing, to that effect.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

No Tender will be attended to unless prepared in proper form, in conformity with this Notice, and of which copies may be obtained either at this Office, or that of the respective Civil Commissioners and Postmasters.

The Tenders must include all intermediate Post Offices between Stations.

It is desired that the Tenderers should state the number of relays of Horses to be used, and the Stations at which they will be kept; as, also, at what price they will engage to convey extra Posts or Expresses on Horseback on the Post Line for which they tender.

Payment will be made to the Contractor monthly, either at the Colonial Treasury in Cape Town, or by the Civil Commissioner of any Division he may select; provided the Contract Bond shall previously have been transmitted to this Office, duly completed, which Bond the Contractor will be required to execute in the presence of two competent Witnesses, together with two good and approved Sureties, to be provided by him, for the due fulfilment of the Contract; and he must accompany his Tender with a written engagement from his Sureties to bind themselves as such; as, also, with a Certificate from the Civil Commissioner or Resident Magistrate of the District in which he resides, as to the sufficiency of such Sureties. In the Tender, the names of the Contractor and his Sureties should be stated at full length, and their respective occupations should also be mentioned therein. The Security required will, in each case, be equal to the payment to be made by Government to the Contractor for one year of the Contract.

The Contractor will be required to provide his own means of conveyance for crossing rivers, without detention; and all penalties for delay, from whatever cause arising, will be rigidly exacted. Any party tendering is required to specify in his Tender the means to be adopted by him for crossing or avoiding swollen rivers, either by applying some contrivance, or leaving the usual line, and also the delay, if any, to be allowed on such occasions.

The Tenderers are required to convey the Mails in covered Carts on springs, conveyed by not fewer than two horses each.

The Contractor's Carts are to be light, but strong sufficiently large to contain the Mail Bags, and to be furnished with Waterproof Wells, or Boxes, with strong Locks and Keys, to hold the Mail Packets, for enclosing and securing which it will be necessary for the Contractor to supply Waterproof Bags; or, failing these, the Cart is to be supplied with Tarpaulins, to be strapped over it and over any Mail Packets that may have to be secured to it, and which are to be lashed on with good stout riems. The Carts to be provided with two good Lamps, with strong Reflectors, which are to be kept lighted at night when travelling.

The Contractor is bound, at his own expense, to provide the means of protecting the Mail Packets from the weather, or injury in transferring them from one Post Cart to another, on the line of road herein referred to, and will be held responsible for any damage which may occur to them whilst being transferred from his charge.

The Contractor will be at liberty to carry such number of Passengers or Parcels in the Mail Vehicle as he may think fit, and to make his own charge for the accommodation thus afforded; provided that part of the Box or Well of the Cart specially to be appropriated for the Mail shall not be mixed up with any other Packets, &c., not appertaining to such Mail.

But the Contractor will not be allowed to carry in his Vehicles, by himself or any of his Servants, any Letters or Newspapers, excepting those delivered to him by the respective Postmasters, or for delivery at any Post Office, nor are they knowingly to permit any Passenger to carry any Letter or Newspaper.

The Post Rider shall be provided by the Contractor with a Bugle or Horn, to be sounded when approaching any Post Office or Post Station.

For any detention of the Mail, or any part thereof, beyond the time specified for the distance allowed, the Contractor shall forfeit according to the following scale:

	£	s.	d.
For every period not exceeding half an hour –	0	2	6
" half an hour, and not exceeding one hour –	0	7	6
" one hour, and not exceeding an hour and a half – – – – – – – – – –	0	15	0
" one hour and a half, and not exceeding two hours – – – – – – – – –	1	5	0
" two hours, and not exceeding two hours and a half – – – – – – – – –	2	0	0

and for every additional half-hour beyond two hours and a half, the additional sum of Ten Shillings.

In the event of the Contractor failing or neglecting for three Posts in succession to convey the Mails within the time herein stipulated, the Postmaster-General for the time being, in that case, to have it in his power, should he so think fit, to advertise for Tenders for a new Contract without any reference to the clause for giving four months' notice for an earlier termination thereof (which clause is to be null and void); and any loss that may accrue by reason that the terms of the new Contract are higher than the terms of the old is to be borne by the Contractor

And inasmuch as serious irregularities have arisen from changing Vehicles and shifting the Mails, the Contractor will have to bind himself that as often as any Post Bag of his shall receive any Mail Bags or Post Office Packets in to any Vehicle at any Post Office, such Bags and Packets shall be carried to their destination in that same Vehicle, and that none of the said Bags or Parcels shall, between the Post Office where the same were received and the Post Office where the same should be delivered, be shifted or removed from that Vehicle to any other Vehicle or mode of conveyance unless with the permission and in the presence of some Postmaster, or unless the Vehicle carrying the same shall, by accident or other cause arising after the same shall have been received, be rendered incapable of carrying on the Mail to its destination. And for any and every breach of this stipulation the Contractor will have to pay to the Postmaster-General for the time being whatever penalty he shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds sterling.

In case any Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail shall not be regularly delivered at the same time as the rest thereof, the Contractor shall be bound to pay to the Postmaster-General, for or in respect of every such lost or missing Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail, such sum as the said Postmaster shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds Sterling, unless the Contractor shall prove that such Bag, Packet, or other part of any such Mail was lost or delayed by inevitable accident against which it was impossible to guard. And the Contractor shall likewise be liable to the Postmaster-General, claiming on behalf of whom it may concern, to make good all loss or damage sustained by any Person whomsoever, by reason that any Mail or Bag, Parcel, or other part of any Mail, shall have been lost or delayed for want of due and proper care and diligence of the Contractor, or any person in his service.

Should the said Contractor fail in the performance of his agreement at any period during the existence of the same, then, and in that case, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General for the time being, and for all Persons thereto authorized by him, to hire, or cause to be hired such Person or Persons, Horse or Horses, as shall be required for the due performance thereof; and all and every expense attendant upon the same shall be borne and sustained by the said Contractor.

And it is lastly agreed that in case of any act of omission constituting a breach by the Contractor of any of the provisions or stipulations of this Contract, not being an act or omission for which any other particular penalty is hereinbefore provided, the Postmaster-General shall have the option of claiming from the Contractor, for and on account of every such act or omission, respectively, the payment of Ten Pounds Sterling, by way of assessed and liquidated damages, and not as a penalty; or otherwise, of claiming and recovering such further or other sum as the said Postmaster shall prove to be the amount of loss or damages actually sustained from or by reason of such act or omission.

The Contractor will be bound to provide a passage in his Mail Conveyance for an Officer of this Department, when travelling on public business, without charge, when required so to do.

Further information may be obtained on application at the Office of the Postmaster-General.

CHARLES PIERS, Postmaster-General.

AN ACT

FOR

The better Preservation of Wild Ostriches.

WHEREAS it is expedient to prevent the indiscriminate destruction of wild ostriches in this Colony: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. The Proclamation dated 21st March, 1822, intituled "Game Law Proclamation," in so far as the same relates to the protection of ostriches or the eggs of ostriches, is hereby repealed.

II. No person shall kill, catch, capture, hunt, or wound any ostrich not being domesticated without having first obtained a licence to kill ostriches, under a penalty of any sum not less than thirty pounds sterling and not exceeding fifty pounds sterling for the first offence, and not less than forty pounds sterling and not exceeding one hundred pounds sterling for every subsequent offence; and any person convicted under this section within six months from the time of the offence may be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding six months, unless or until the fine be sooner paid.

III. No person shall, whether having obtained a licence to kill ostriches or not, kill, catch, capture, hunt, or wound within any district of this Colony, any ostrich not being domesticated within the months which shall in any such district be for the time being proclaimed as fence season for ostriches under the provisions of this Act, under like penalties as by the last foregoing section are provided in cases falling within that section.

IV. For every licence to kill ostriches there shall be payable a stamp duty of twenty pounds sterling; and every such licence shall be in force for the time specified therein, and no longer: Provided that every licence to kill ostriches shall authorize the holder thereof to catch, capture, hunt, or shoot at the same.

V. It shall be lawful for the Governor, by proclamation to be by him issued, to fix and prescribe for the several districts in this Colony the close time or fence seasons within which it shall not be lawful to kill, catch, capture, hunt, or wound ostriches within this Colony, not being domesticated ostriches, either with or without a licence to kill ostriches.

VI. No person shall at any time wilfully take away, disturb, destroy, or have in his possession the eggs of any wild ostrich in any part of this Colony under the penalty of any sum not exceeding three pounds sterling for the first offence, and not less than three pounds sterling nor exceeding six pounds sterling for every subsequent offence, the conviction in each case being within six months from the time of the offence charged; and any person convicted under this section may be imprisoned with or without hard labour for any term not exceeding three months, unless the fine be sooner paid.

VII. It shall be lawful for any owner or occupier of land, without having taken out any licence, to catch and keep, or to cause or permit to be caught and kept, the young of any ostriches for the purpose of domestication, at any time when the same shall be found upon the land of such owner or occupier, anything contained in this Act or in any other law to the contrary notwithstanding.

VIII. The several fines above mentioned may be recovered by any person, on behalf as well of himself as of the Crown, in all cases where the fine shall not exceed fifty pounds sterling, in the court of the resident magistrate of the district where the offence may have been committed; the sentence, however, being subject to review by the Supreme or Eastern Districts or Circuit Courts, as the case may be, and in other cases in the Supreme Court, the Court of the Eastern Districts, as the case may be, or the Circuit Court for the district where the offence may have been committed; and a portion of any fine imposed upon any offender on conviction for contravening any of the provisions of this Act, not less than one pound nor exceeding five pounds, at the discretion of the court, shall be paid to the person on whose information such conviction shall have taken place, provided such person be not an accessory.

IX. It shall be lawful for the Governor, by Proclamation in the Government Gazette, to proclaim and declare, as to any parts of this Colony, that wild ostriches shall be protected and not destroyed for any number of years not exceeding three, to be mentioned in such Proclamation; and any person contravening the provisions of any such Proclamation shall be subject to the like penalties as those provided by the second section of this Act; and it shall also be lawful for the Governor from time to time to revoke, alter, or amend such Proclamation.

X. In any prosecution for infringement of the second section of this Act, it shall be prima facie sufficient for the prosecutor to show that the accused does not appear as the holder of a licence in the list of persons to whom the requisite licence in such case shall have been issued, respectively, kept in the office of the resident magistrate, before whom or in whose district such case shall be brought for trial in any court; but it shall be lawful for such accused person to rebut such evidence by proof that he was, in fact, at the time of the commission of the offence charged, the lawful holder of such licence.

Given at Government House, this 5th day of May, 1870.

By command of His Excellency the Governor,

R. SOUTHEY, Colonial Secretary.

[ACT No. 13 of 1870.]

AN ACT

TO

Amend the Act No. 3, 1864, intituled "An Act for regulating the Duties upon Stamps and Licences."

WHEREAS it is expedient to increase certain of the Stamp Duties imposed by the "Stamp Act, 1864," and to amend the said Act in other respects: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. The following portions of the Stamp Act, 1864, and of the schedule annexed to the said Act are hereby repealed, that is to say:

The twenty-third and the twenty-ninth sections of the said Act.

The tariff numbered 2 in the schedule to the said Act, headed "Agreements."

The tariff numbered 4 in the said schedule, headed "Bills, Notes, Cheques, &c."

The tariff numbered 5 in the said schedule, headed "Ships, &c."

The tariff numbered 8 in the said schedule, headed "Transfers and Mortgages."

The tariff numbered 16 in the said schedule, headed "Miscellaneous Acts."

II. So much of the Act aforesaid No. 3, 1864, not hereinbefore repealed, as shall be repugnant to or inconsistent with any of the provisions of this Act, or of the schedule annexed to this Act shall be, and the same is hereby repealed.

III. The several tariffs in the schedule to this Act contained, and numbered, respectively, with the same numbers as the tariffs repealed by this Act shall, number for number, and whether the heading of such tariff be the same or varied, take the place and be in stead of the tariffs so repealed, and shall have the force of law accordingly. And all and singular the several explanations, conditions, directions, and provisions contained in the schedule to the Act shall have the same force and effect as if the same were contained in the body of this Act.

IV. Every stamp provided by this Act, or by the said Act 3 of 1864, or by any schedule thereof, respectively, to be imposed on any notarial act, shall be upon the minute of such act. Every adhesive stamp on any such notarial deed as is not by this Act or by the said Act No. 3 of 1864 required to be written on stamped paper, or to be cancelled as in the fourteenth section of the said Act No. 3 of 1864 is provided, shall be cancelled by the notary writing thereon his name, and the date on which he shall write the same.

V. Every cession, whether notarial or underhand, of any policy of insurance against fire or upon life, and whether such cession be absolute or by way of pledge, shall bear a stamp of one half the amount of the stamp to which such original policy was liable. All such cessions must be written either upon stamped paper or upon paper having an adhesive stamp affixed and cancelled as in the fourteenth section of the Act No. 3, 1864, mentioned, or upon the policy ceded. When written upon the policy ceded, an adhesive stamp of the required value must be affixed to or upon such cession, before delivery of the policy ceded to the cessionary. And the person ceding shall cancel such adhesive stamp by writing thereon his name and the date on which he shall write his name.

VI. If any person who should, in obedience to or in conformity with the Act aforesaid, No. 3 of 1864, and the schedule thereunto annexed, take out and possess any licence authorizing him to practise any profession or exercise any trade, business, occupation, or calling, or possess, or perform any particular matter or thing, shall be proved to have done or performed, without having previously taken out the particular licence in that behalf required, any act amounting to or in the way of the practice of any such profession, or the exercise of any such trade, business, occupation, or calling, or be proved to have possessed or performed any particular matter or thing for the possession or performance of which a licence shall be required, such person shall, in the absence of any special and greater penalty provided by any law now in force or hereafter to be passed in that behalf, for every such act forfeit any sum not exceeding five times the amount of the charge or duty payable for or in respect of the taking out of the particular licence which such person ought to have taken out and possessed.

VII. In case any person having taken out any licence in the schedule to the said Act 3 of 1864 mentioned, which may authorize the carrying on of any trade or business in any particular place, shall, during the continuance of such licence, wish to change the place at which such trade or business shall in future be carried on, it shall be lawful for such person to obtain from the officer whose duty it may be to issue licences of the same nature as that held by such person, on proof to such officer that such trade or business has been, in fact, discontinued at the place for which such licence was granted, and on bringing to such officer and leaving with him such licence for cancellation, a certificate that such licence has been cancelled; and it shall be the duty of such officer then and there to cancel such licence, and retain the same so cancelled as a voucher.

VIII. After such cancellation as aforesaid, it shall not be lawful for such person as aforesaid to carry on such trade or business at the place for which such cancelled licence shall have been granted, and from and after such cancellation, he shall, as to all future dealings in such place, be deemed and taken for all purposes to be dealing without having taken any licence, and shall be liable accordingly.

IX. It shall be lawful for such person, upon obtaining such certificate of cancellation as aforesaid, to present the same to the officer whose duty it shall be to issue licences for the carrying on of the like trade or business at the place to which such person as aforesaid shall desire to remove his trade or business, and to deliver up such certificate to such officer, who shall retain the same as a voucher; and such officer shall thereupon issue to such person a licence to carry on such trade or business in the place which such person shall name as the place in which he desires to carry on the same, on payment of a new licence duty of one shilling.

X. All fines and penalties imposed under or by virtue of this Act, or imposed and incurred under or by virtue of the said Act No. 3, 1864, and not yet recovered, may be recovered by criminal process in the court of any resident magistrate having local jurisdiction in the matter in case the amount of such fine shall not exceed fifty pounds sterling, and in the Supreme or Eastern Districts or Circuit Courts, respectively, in case such fine shall exceed fifty pounds sterling; but in any case in which the local jurisdiction of any resident magistrate shall be, or shall appear to the public prosecutor to be, uncertain, then such fines or penalties, though less than fifty pounds sterling in amount, may be recovered in the said Supreme or Eastern Districts Court, or in any Circuit Court, as the case may be; and in every case where any such fine or penalty shall be recovered in any court of resident magistrate, the person condemned may, if he feels himself aggrieved, appeal to the Supreme or Eastern Districts Court, as the case may be, first paying the penalty and giving security to the satisfaction of the resident magistrate for the costs of appeal.

XI. This Act shall commence and take effect from the first day of July, 1870, and may be cited as "The Stamp Act, 1870."

[ACT No. 14 of 1870.]

AN ACT

TO

Regulate the Removal of Cattle within the Colony.

WHEREAS in consequence of the frequency of stock thefts in certain of the divisions of the Colony, it is necessary that means should be devised for regulating the removal of stock from place to place, with the object of rendering the removal of stolen animals more difficult and the detection of offenders more easy: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. This Act shall apply to such divisions of this Colony as shall be proclaimed in manner hereinafter mentioned, and no other.

II. It shall be the duty of every person desiring the removal of stock from any place to any other place distant therefrom more than ten miles, to procure a certificate, signed by any resident magistrate, justice of the peace, field-cornet, or land-holder, stating the date upon which the same is granted, the name of the owner, and the number and description of the stock to be removed, the name of the place from which the same is being removed, and of the place to which it is being sent; and also the name or names of the driver or drivers thereof.

III. It shall be the duty of any land-holder to grant, free of charge, such certificate as aforesaid, written in such language, whether English, Dutch, or native, as such land-holder may be able to write intelligibly, to any person who, being in the lawful possession of any stock, desires to remove the same from land occupied by such land-holder and the refusal by the master of any servant or apprentice to grant, in regard to any stock of such servant or apprentice lawfully running or being upon the land of the said master, such a certificate as is in this Act mentioned, shall be deemed and taken to be, for the purpose of the twenty-first section of chapter 5 of the Act No. 15, 1856, commonly called the Masters and Servants Act, a refusal by such master to deliver such stock or to permit the same to be taken away; and the provisions of the said twenty-first section shall apply to such case as fully as if the same were herein again set forth.

IV. It shall be the duty of any magistrate, justice of the peace, field-cornet, or land-holder, to whom application is made for such certificate as aforesaid, to grant a certificate, written in such language, whether English, Dutch, or native, as the person applied to may be able to write intelligibly, to the person applying for the same: Provided that the magistrate, justice of the peace, field-cornet, or land-holder to whom application is made shall be satisfied that the stock for the removal of which the certificate is required are the property or in the lawful possession of the person about to remove the same.

V. It shall be lawful for any magistrate, justice of the peace, field-cornet, police officer, constable, or land-holder, who shall find any person driving stock, to call upon such person to produce such certificate as aforesaid, and if such person shall fail to produce such certificate, or if the stock being removed shall not correspond in all material respects with the certificate produced, or if the direction in which such person is proceeding with the stock shall not correspond with the direction indicated in such certificate, or if the name of the person driving the stock shall not correspond with that in the certificate, then such magistrate, justice of the peace, field-cornet, police officer, constable, or land-holder, if he shall be able to read such certificate, and if he shall know that such stock have been removed ten miles or more from the place from which the same were removed, may take possession of such stock and cause the same to be conveyed to the nearest pound, there to remain until liberated by order of the resident magistrate, or otherwise disposed of as hereinafter provided.

VI. The person causing any stock to be impounded as aforesaid shall communicate to the poundmaster the circumstances under which the same were seized, and the poundmaster shall forthwith notify, by advertisement to be published or made known in the manner in which the pound notices for such district are published or made known, the number and description of the stock, and such information regarding the same as the person impounding the stock shall have communicated to him.

VII. Any person claiming stock so impounded as his property, or lawfully in his possession, may apply to the resident magistrate or any justice of the peace of the district for an order for the liberation thereof, and such magistrate or justice of the peace shall inquire into the case, and if satisfied that such stock is the property of the claimant, or was lawfully in his possession, then such magistrate or justice of the peace shall give an order, in writing, directing the poundmaster of the pound in which such stock shall be impounded to deliver the same to the claimant upon payment of the pound fees and charges; and the poundmaster shall, at the time of the delivery of the stock, grant a certificate for the protection of such stock until the arrival thereof at the place to which it is intended to remove the same.

VIII. Should the person claiming any stock so seized and impounded as aforesaid fail to show to the satisfaction of such magistrate or justice of the peace that the stock claimed is his property, or was lawfully in his possession, or should the stock be unclaimed for a period of one month after notice given by such poundmaster as aforesaid, then the same shall be dealt with in all respects as if such stock was impounded under the provisions of the Ordinance No. 16, 1847, entitled "Ordinance for the better regulation of Pounds and prevention of Trespasses," as the same Ordinance is, or may hereafter be, altered or amended by any Act or Acts of Parliament; and the proceeds of sale of any such stock shall be paid into the public treasury.

IX. If any person found driving stock shall, upon being thereto required, produce to the person requiring the same a certificate under the provisions of this Act, or if the stock so driven shall not have been removed ten miles, and notwithstanding the stock found with such person shall be conveyed to the pound upon the allegation that the certificate produced is not proper and sufficient, or that such stock have been removed ten miles or more, then the owner of the stock shall be entitled to recover compensation from such person for any damage which he shall have sustained by reason of the impounding of such stock, including all pound fees payable or already paid.

X. Any person who shall wilfully and maliciously, and without probable cause, wrongfully impound any stock under colour of the provisions of this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a crime, and shall upon conviction be liable to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, and with or without spare diet, for any term not exceeding three months, or, if the court shall see fit, to pay a fine not exceeding in amount ten pounds sterling, and further to pay to the owner of such stock such amount to cover expenses and damages as the magistrate before whom the case is brought shall award, and as shall not have been awarded under the ninth section of this Act.

XI. Any person who shall by force or violence, or by threatening to use force or violence, prevent or attempt to prevent any magistrate, justice of the peace, field-cornet, police officer, constable, or land-holder from conveying to the pound any stock which he shall have a right under this Act to convey to the pound, or who shall rescue, or attempt to rescue, such stock against the will of the person in charge thereof, after the same shall have been impounded with any poundmaster, shall, upon conviction, be fined any sum not exceeding ten pounds, and shall, in default of payment, be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding two months.

XII. Any person who shall knowingly grant any such certificate as aforesaid which shall contain any wilfully false statement or description in respect of any matter material to be stated or described therein, or who shall fraudulently alter any such certificate as aforesaid, shall upon conviction be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for a period not exceeding six months.

XIII. The word "stock" in this Act shall mean any horse, gelding, mare, colt, filly, mule, or ass, or any bull, ox, cow, heifer, or calf, or any sheep or goat: Provided that stock under saddle, or pack-saddle, cattle employed in drawing any vehicle, whether inspanned or outspanned, or stock in the possession of the police shall not be deemed to be stock within the meaning of this Act.

XIV. It shall be lawful for the Governor, at the request of the divisional council of any division, from time to time to put this Act in force in such division by proclamation published in the Government Gazette; and upon the like request, and in like manner, or when to the Governor it shall seem expedient, to suspend the operation of the Act for such time as the Governor may deem necessary: Provided that certificates for the removal of stock granted by resident magistrates, justices of the peace, field-cornets, or land-holders in places where this Act shall not be in operation shall be good, valid, and effectual in any division in which this Act shall be in force; and as often as this Act shall be in force in any division of the Colony, then the third and fourth sections of this Act shall be in force throughout the entire Colony.

XV. No certificate which shall be issued under the provisions of this Act shall be construed to prevent any magistrate, justice of the peace, police officer, or constable from seizing or detaining any stock which he may have reasonable ground for supposing to have been stolen; but every such magistrate, justice of the peace, police officer, and constable shall possess such and the same powers in respect to the seizure and detention of such stock as he possessed before the passing of this Act.

XVI. This Act may be cited for all purposes as "The Cattle Removal Act, 1870."

Given at Government House, this 5th day of May, 1870.
By command of His Excellency the Governor,
R. SOUTHEY, Colonial Secretary.

TENDERS FOR THE CONVEYANCE OF MAILS.

General Post Office, Cape Town,
21st March, 1870.

NOTICE is hereby given that Sealed Tenders addressed to the Honourable the Auditor-General, and marked "Tender for Inland Mails," will be received by that Officer until Thursday, 2nd June, 1870, at 12 noon, for the conveyance of the following Mails:

Somerset and Bedford, viâ Cookhouse Drift, three times a week each way by Cart (Passenger or other), in six hours.

The Contract to commence from Wednesday, 13th July, to expire on 31st December, 1872.

Middelburg and Graaff-Reinet, in fourteen hours once a week each way, to commence on 1st August, 1870, and expire 31st December, 1872.

If a Tender for this line be accepted, either of the contracting parties will be at liberty to terminate the same upon giving four months' notice, in writing, to that effect.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

No Tender will be attended to unless prepared in proper form, in conformity with this Notice, and of which copies may be obtained either at this Office, or that of the respective Civil Commissioners and Postmasters.

The Tenders must include all intermediate Post Offices between Stations.

It is desired that the Tenderers should state the number of relays of Horses to be used, and the Stations at which they will be kept; as, also, at what price they will engage to convey extra Posts or Expresses on Horseback on the Post Line for which they tender.

Payment will be made to the Contractor monthly, either at the Colonial Treasury in Cape Town, or by the Civil Commissioner of any Division he may select; provided the Contract Bond shall previously have been transmitted to this Office, duly completed, which Bond the Contractor will be required to execute in the presence of two competent Witnesses, together with two good and approved Sureties, to be provided by him, for the due fulfilment of the Contract; and he must accompany his Tender with a written engagement from his Sureties to bind themselves as such; as, also, with a Certificate from the Civil Commissioner or Resident Magistrate of the District in which he resides, as to the sufficiency of such Sureties. In the Tender, the names of the Contractor and his Sureties should be stated at full length, and their respective occupations should also be mentioned therein. The Security required will, in each case, be equal to the payment to be made by Government to the Contractor for one year of the Contract.

The Contractor will be required to provide his own means of conveyance for crossing rivers, without detention; and all penalties for delay, from whatever cause arising, will be rigidly exacted. Any party tendering is required to specify in his Tender the means to be adopted by him for crossing or avoiding swollen rivers, either by applying some contrivance, or leaving the usual line, and also the delay, if any, to be allowed on such occasions.

The Tenderers are required to convey the Mails in covered Carts on springs, conveyed by not fewer than two horses each.

The Contractor's Carts are to be light, but strong sufficiently large to contain the Mail Bags, and to be furnished with Waterproof Wells, or Boxes, with strong Locks and Keys, to hold the Mail Packets, for enclosing and securing which it will be necessary for the Contractor to supply Waterproof Bags; or, failing these, the Cart is to be supplied with Tarpaulins, to be strapped over it and over any Mail Packets that may have to be secured to it, and which are to be lashed on with good stout riems. The Carts to be provided with two good Lamps, with strong Reflectors, which are to be kept lighted at night when travelling.

The Contractor is bound, at his own expense, to provide the means of protecting the Mail Packets from the weather, or injury in transferring them from one Post Cart to another, on the line of road herein referred to, and will be held responsible for any damage which may occur to them whilst being transferred from his charge.

The Contractor will be at liberty to carry such number of Passengers or Parcels in the Mail Vehicle as he may think fit, and to make his own charge for the accommodation thus afforded; provided that part of the Box or Well of the Cart specially to be appropriated for the Mail shall not be mixed up with any other Packets, &c., not appertaining to such Mail.

But the Contractor will not be allowed to carry in his Vehicles, by himself or any of his Servants, any Letters or Newspapers, excepting those delivered to him by the respective Postmasters, or for delivery at any Post Office, nor are they knowingly to permit any Passenger to carry any Letter or Newspaper.

The Post Rider shall be provided by the Contractor with a Bugle or Horn, to be sounded when approaching any Post Office or Post Station.

For any detention of the Mail, or any part thereof, beyond the time specified for the distance allowed, the Contractor shall forfeit according to the following scale:

	£	s.	d
For every period not exceeding half an hour -	0	2	6
" half an hour, and not exceeding one hour -	0	7	6
" one hour, and not exceeding an hour and a half - - - - - - - - - -	0	15	0
" one hour and a half, and not exceeding two hours - - - - - - - - -	1	5	0
" two hours, and not exceeding two hours and a half - - - - - - - - -	2	0	0

and for every additional half-hour beyond two hours and a half, the additional sum of Ten Shillings.

In the event of the Contractor failing or neglecting for three Posts in succession to convey the Mails within the time herein stipulated, the Postmaster-General for the time being, in that case, to have it in his power, should he so think fit, to advertise for Tenders for a new Contract without any reference to the clause for giving four months' notice for an earlier termination thereof (which clause is to be null and void); and any loss that may accrue by reason that the terms of the new Contract are higher than the terms of the old is to be borne by the Contractor

And inasmuch as serious irregularities have arisen from hanging Vehicles and shifting the Mails, the Contractor will have to bind himself that as often as any Post Boy of his shall receive any Mail Bags or Post Office Packets in to any Vehicle at any Post Office, such Bags and Packets shall be carried to their destination in that same Vehicle, and that none of the said Bags or Parcels shall, between the Post Office where the same were received and the Post Office where the same should be delivered, be shifted or removed from that Vehicle to any other Vehicle or mode of conveyance unless with the permission and in the presence of some Postmaster, or unless the Vehicle carrying the same shall, by accident or other cause arising after the same shall have been received, be rendered incapable of carrying on the Mail to its destination. And for any and every breach of this stipulation the Contractor will have to pay to the Postmaster-General for the time being whatever penalty he shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds sterling.

In case any Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail shall not be regularly delivered at the same time as the rest thereof, the Contractor shall be bound to pay to the Postmaster-General, for or in respect of every such lost or missing Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail, such sum as the said Postmaster shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds Sterling, unless the Contractor shall prove that such Bag, Packet, or other part of any such Mail was lost or delayed by inevitable accident against which it was impossible to guard. And the Contractor shall likewise be liable to the Postmaster-General, claiming on behalf of whom it may concern, to make good all loss or damage sustained by any Person whomsoever, by reason that any Mail or Bag, Parcel, or other part of any Mail, shall have been lost or delayed for want of due and proper care and diligence of the Contractor, or any person in his service.

Should the said Contractor fail in the performance of his agreement at any period during the existence of the same, then, and in that case, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General for the time being, and for all Persons thereto authorized by him, to hire, or cause to be hired such Person or Persons, Horse or Horses, as shall be required for the due performance thereof; and all and every expense attendant upon the same shall be borne and sustained by the said Contractor.

And it is lastly agreed that in case of any act of omission constituting a breach by the Contractor of any of the provisions or stipulations of this Contract, not being an act or omission for which any other particular penalty is hereinbefore provided, the Postmaster-General shall have the option of claiming from the Contractor, for and on account of every such act or omission, respectively, the payment of Ten Pounds Sterling, by way of assessed and liquidated damages, and not as a penalty; or otherwise, of claiming and recovering such further or other sum as the said Postmaster shall prove to be the amount of loss or damages actually sustained from or by reason of such act or omission.

The Contractor will be bound to provide a passage in his Mail Conveyance for an Officer of this Department, when travelling on public business, without charge, when required so to do.

Further information may be obtained on application at the Office of the Postmaster-General.

CHARLES PIERS, Postmaster-General.

10 Mei, 1870.

AANGEZIEN narigten werden verlangd omtrent JOES MARIE HUBI, zoo wordt aan ieder die iets aangaande hem weet versocht daarvan mededeeling te doen ten dezen Kantore.

HUBI, een inboorling van Rostrenen, Côtes du Nord, heeft gediend als matroos aan boord van het Fransche fregatschip la Fidele, maar wordt gezegd in Maart 1804 aan de Kaap invalide te zijn geworden en zich later in de Kolonie te hebben nedergezet. Men geloeft dat zijn overlijden heeft plaats gehad tusschen 1840 en 1850, maar met zekerheid heeft men tot nog toe niets vernomen. Indien HUBI nog in leven was, zou hij nu 94 jaar oud zijn.

1. Masters of vessels intending to take up the outside Moorings or to enter the Basin or Dock shall intimate the same to the Dock-master on their arrival, and obey his directions as laid down in the following regulations, a copy of which they will be provided with.

2. Vessels in preparing to enter shall pump out all bilge-water, unload all guns, and put out all gunpowder. Vessels arriving with gunpowder, gun-cotton, vitriol, acids, or other explosive or inflammable material consigned to this port, with the exception of paraffine and spirits of turpentine, shall, before entering the Dock or Basin, discharge the same at the outer anchorage into lighters provided for the purpose at the expense of the consignee. Good and sufficient warps must be ready to be sent to each pier head.

3. Vessels on entering, leaving, or removing in Dock must be provided with sufficient hands to dock, undock, or remove them, in default of which it will be done by the Board at the owner's expense. They must also be provided with good and sufficient warps, and must be moored by them, which they are on no account to cast off unless ordered by the Dock-master. In the case of vessels not being suitably found with the necessary gear, warps will be supplied by the Board and charged for. It is, however, to be expressly understood that the Board is not responsible either for the sufficiency of any rope or warp which they may lend or allow to be used, or for any such other assistance rendered by them or their officers to vessels entering, removing in, or leaving the Docks.

4. Vessels entering into or passing out of the Dock, shall, if required by the Dock-master, have their anchors in on deck, and properly stowed, sails furled, lower yards a-peak, topsail yards hoisted half up and also a-peak, all jibbooms rigged in, martingales and all outriggers unshipped, quarter-boats swung in board, main or mizen booms, stern or quarter-davits, and all bumpkins or outriggers rigged in.

5. Every vessel shall occupy the berth assigned to her by the Dock-master, whether quay or otherwise, or remove to any other berth as he may direct, which shall be effected by its own officers and crew on their own responsibility.

6. Every vessel on entering shall hoist her colours.

7. The master, owner, or other person having charge of any vessel lying within the Dock or Basin shall have a shipkeeper on board, to carefully attend to the moorings of the vessel, to the sufficiency thereof, and cause them to be slackened or hove in, as may be necessary, on the rise or fall of the water, to prevent damage being done to that or to any other vessel, or to the Dock works.

8. Masters of vessels shall, within twenty-four hours of their arrival in the Dock or Basin, deliver at the Dock Office a true copy of the manifest or report of the cargo, signed by themselves, which should set forth whether the vessel is fully laden or not, and denote, as far as possible, the goods at hand, whether the cargo is to be discharged by the Board, and also whether any survey is required, together with a certificate of the tonnage in the register of the said vessel. The tonnage of vessels other than British registered to be determined by the legal rates of admeasurement of merchant shipping of the United Kingdom for the time being.

9. No rope, chain, or tackle of any description must be made fast to any chain-post or quay-fender, or to the sheds or pillars thereof, or to be slackened, cast off, cut, or unshackled within the Docks, without the Dock-master's instructions or directions, or contrary to the same. Nor shall any mooring-chain used in the Dock be fastened with a lock or shackle.

10. All sails, awnings, and deck coverings of vessels in Dock to be furled or stowed away when required by the Dockmaster.

11. All dogs found at large on the Dock premises will be destroyed; those on board any craft or vessel must be properly secured.

12. No gunpowder or loaded gun is on any account permitted to be brought into the Dock, or allowed to remain therein, nor must firearms of any kind be discharged in the Dock.

13. No combustible matter, such as pitch, tar, rosin, turpentine, or oil, shall on any account be heated or boiled on board of any vessel or craft, nor anywhere in the Dock premises, except in the enclosures specially provided for that purpose.

14. Smoking is strictly prohibited within the Dock premises.

15. No fire, light, or smoking is allowed on deck whilst any vessel or craft is receiving or delivering any combustible articles or heated pitch is being used.

Fires, lights, and smoking, subject to the exceptions hereafter specified, are only permitted on board vessels, lighters, or craft during the following hours:

Between 6 o'clock a.m. and 5 o'clock p.m. from the 1*st of October and the* 31*st March; and between* 7 o'clock a.m. and 4 o'clock p.m. from the 1*st of April and the* 30*th September,* which hours shall be indicated by the ringing of the Dock bell.

Special permission, in writing, may be granted by the Dock-master, after satisfactory examination of the vessel, to keep lights in the cabins or elsewhere, in lanterns properly secured until 9 o'clock, and at such other hours, in cases of sickness or other emergency, as he may think proper to direct.

Special permission may also be granted by the Dock-master, in writing, for lights in lanterns properly secured being used in the hold or between decks of vessels loading or unloading cargo, and also for fire and lights being used in the case of vessels requiring repairs, or of such as have been allowed by the officers of Her Majesty's Customs to load or discharge during hours, others than those in which, by these regulations, fires and lights are permitted. Provided that in every case in which such special permission is granted, the Dock-master shall appoint one or more watchmen, as the case may require, at the ship's expense, who shall remain on board during the whole time such lamps or fires shall be lighted or burning.

Fires used on any steam-boat or vessel for heating the boilers thereof shall be completely extinguished in every part of the vessel within two hours after entering the Dock, and no fire shall be allowed to be lighted for the purpose of again raising steam to enable such vessel to depart for a longer period than four hours before such departure.

Special permission, in writing, may be granted by the Dock-master in the case of steam-vessels requiring to leave the Dock the same day, or within twelve hours after their arrival, not wholly to extinguish the fires on board thereof, provided the same shall be damped in such a manner as the Dock-master shall direct: and provided that during the whole period of the vessel's stay in Dock, one or more watchmen, as the case may require, to be appointed by the Dockmaster at the ship's expense, shall remain on board for the purpose of preventing any accident from such fire.

16. The master, owner, or person having charge of any vessel in the Basin or Dock is required whilst loading or unloading ballast, coals, cinders, stones, or any loose matter to cause a canvas tarpaulin, or some other safeguard, to be fastened to such vessel and the pier or quay, or stage berth, or place of loading or unloading, or to any other vessel to which such loading or unloading is conveyed, so as to prevent any part thereof falling into the Basin or Dock; and when such matters are landed from any vessel, the same shall be placed at least six feet back from the place of landing.

17. Captains and owners of vessels, lightermen, and others are liable for all damage done by their vessels, craft, or servants to the piers, quays, walls, cranes, mooring-posts, or other works belonging to the Dock or Basin, or to the buoys, mooring-chains, or craft, or to any plant or material the property of the Board, and shall pay for and make good all such damage.

18. No dirt, ashes, stones, bottles, baskets, oakum, wipings, or other rubbish, are to be thrown into the Dock or Basin, or placed on the quays, but shall be removed to the dirtbins provided for the purpose day by day after working hours, and before dark.

19. No ship or vessel shall be allowed to break bulk until her cargo has been duly entered at the Custom-house, or special authority be obtained therefrom.

20. The master of every vessel, or some person appointed by him, must, during all the time employed in loading or discharging such vessel, remain on board to witness the same.

21. The responsibility of masters or owners of vessels with respect to the cargo will continue in all cases whilst the goods are in the vessel's hold, and also as respects any injury sustained from imperfect or careless hooking or slinging, except the discharge or loading of the cargo be wholly effected by the Board.

22. When vessels or crafts are discharged or loaded by their own crews, labourers to assist may be hired to work on board; but all such labourers shall be under the direction and responsibility of the master, owner, or person in charge of the vessel; and no such labourers shall be allowed to work on board any such vessel or craft, or on the quays, or in the warehouses, or within any portion of the Dock premises, except such as are approved by the Board, and who shall have a distinctive badge.

23. The master or person in charge of every vessel or craft will be required to give a receipt to the wharfinger or person appointed by him for all goods delivered to his vessel.

24. Masters of vessels preparing to leave the Dock or Basin shall, before clearing at the Custom-house, give twelve hours' notice of the same at the Dock-master's office, and shall hoist their colours at least two hours before leaving.

25. No vessel shall be permitted to leave the Dock or Basin until all rates and charges due by or on account of the vessel shall have been paid, and a certificate to this effect obtained from the Dock Office, and the Dock-master, on receiving such certificate, will then grant the necessary pass.

26. Captains, mates, or other persons in charge of vessels are to obey the directions of the wharfingers with respect to the mode and time of landing or receiving on board goods from the quays or lighters, or of transhipping; who are also empowered to lay and fix stages, planks, and trestles for that purpose, upon and across the deck of any vessel to facilitate the landing from, or shipment, or transhipment, on board of any other vessel, and to remove or shift such stages, planks, or trestles, as circumstances may require.

27. Importers, or shippers, or persons in charge of goods must deliver at the Dock Office regular delivery orders or shipping notes, which shall specify their marks, quality, and description, and their weight or measurement, also the name of the ship, master, and port the goods are from or intended for; and when for more than one vessel, there must be separate notes or orders for each.

28. The amount of all rates and charges upon goods landed, shipped, or transhipped will be made out at the Dock Office and must be paid previous to their removal from the Dock or to their being put on board, or previous to the issue of any warrant, or to any transfer order being accepted for the whole or any part thereof.

29. The Board, for the dispatch of business, may, on the application of masters of vessels, obtain from Her Majesty's Customs authority to land and warehouse such goods as the consignees shall neglect or refuse to enter within forty-eight hours of the ship's report, and bills of lading must be produced before such goods can be delivered to persons claiming the same.

30. Goods landed may be detained for freight prior to the delivery or issue of Dock warrants, on due notice being given at the Dock Office by the master or owner, or authorized party, in writing.

31. Packages of bullion, specie, or precious stones, whether cargo or private property, must be delivered or received by the captain under his own responsibility.

32. Orders for delivery cannot be acted upon unless signed by the party in whose name the goods stand in the Board's books, or by a person duly authorized, in writing, to sign for him, and which authority must be lodged with the Board.

33. Brokers having general authority from merchants to inspect their goods or to draw samples must produce the same at the Board's Office for registry.

34. Particular attention is necessary as to regularity in endorsing bills of lading, as the Dock officers will not pass any on which the authority from the shipper to the holder is not shown by a regular chain of endorsements; and no delivery order will be attended to when the bill of lading is at variance with the manifest as to the original consignee.

35. Goods landed and handed direct to parties in attendance to receive them will only be chargeable with the landing rate

36. The Board will not hold itself responsible for leakage, loss of weight or measure, or for deterioration on such goods as may be deposited in their warehouses, or otherwise in their charge: nor will they be liable in the performance of labourage operations for any loss or damage that may be sustained by goods, owing to the defective or leaky condition of the casks or packages containing such goods, unless orders, in writing, were previously given to the principal wharfinger to repair the same, nor be liable for any losses unless ascertained previous to the goods being removed from the Dock premises.

37. Rent in all cases is chargeable on the gross weight or measurement, and commences from the day on which the first portion of every parcel is deposited in the warehouses or from the day any goods are received for shipment. All fractions of a week will be charged as one week.

38. Parties are not permitted to send vitriol, acids, lucifer matches, or other goods of a dangerous or combustible nature to the Docks for shipment until the vessel is ready to receive the same, and the quantity and description of the article must be clearly designated on the outside of the package; and all articles of a similar nature when landed must be removed from the quays within twelve hours after due notice has been given to the owners; failing which they will be removed at the cost of the owners, and such goods while on the quays must be watched from one hour before sunset to one hour after sunrise, at the expense of the owner.

39. Timber must be landed at the timber slip in the outer basin or at such other place as may be duly authorised, and be stacked on land exclusively appropriated for the purpose.

TENDERS FOR THE CONVEYANCE OF MAILS.

General Post Office, Cape Town,
21st March, 1870.

NOTICE is hereby given that Sealed Tenders addressed to the Honourable the Auditor-General, and marked "Tender for Inland Mails," will be received by that Officer until Thursday, 2nd June, 1870, at 12 noon, for the conveyance of the following Mails:

Somerset and Bedford, viâ Cookhouse Drift, three times a week each way by Cart (Passenger or other), in six hours.

The Contract to commence from Wednesday, 13th July, to expire on 31st December, 1872.

Middelburg and Graaff-Reinet, in fourteen hours once a week each way, to commence on 1st August, 1870, and expire 31st December, 1872.

If a Tender for this line be accepted, either of the contracting parties will be at liberty to terminate the same upon giving four months' notice, in writing, to that effect.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

No Tender will be attended to unless prepared in proper form, in conformity with this Notice, and of which copies may be obtained either at this Office, or that of the respective Civil Commissioners and Postmasters.

The Tenders must include all intermediate Post Offices between Stations.

It is desired that the Tenderers should state the number of relays of Horses to be used, and the Stations at which they will be kept; as, also, at what price they will engage to convey extra Posts or Expresses on Horseback on the Post Line for which they tender.

Payment will be made to the Contractor monthly, either at the Colonial Treasury in Cape Town, or by the Civil Commissioner of any Division he may select; provided the Contract Bond shall previously have been transmitted to this Office, duly completed, which Bond the Contractor will be required to execute in the presence of two competent Witnesses, together with two good and approved Sureties, to be provided by him, for the due fulfilment of the Contract; and he must accompany his Tender with a written engagement from his Sureties to bind themselves as such; as, also, with a Certificate from the Civil Commissioner or Resident Magistrate of the District in which he resides, as to the sufficiency of such Sureties. In the Tender, the names of the Contractor and his Sureties should be stated at full length, and their respective occupations should also be mentioned therein. The Security required will, in each case, be equal to the payment to be made by Government to the Contractor for one year of the Contract.

The Contractor will be required to provide his own means of conveyance for crossing rivers, without detention; and all penalties for delay, from whatever cause arising, will be rigidly exacted. Any party tendering is required to specify in his Tender the means to be adopted by him for crossing or avoiding swollen rivers, either by applying some contrivance, or leaving the usual line, and also the delay, if any, to be allowed on such occasions.

The Tenderers are required to convey the Mails in covered Carts on springs, conveyed by not fewer than two horses each.

The Contractor's Carts are to be light, but strong sufficiently large to contain the Mail Bags, and to be furnished with Waterproof Wells, or Boxes, with strong Locks and Keys, to hold the Mail-Packets, for enclosing and securing which it will be necessary for the Contractor to supply Waterproof Bags; or, failing these, the Cart is to be supplied with Tarpaulins, to be strapped over it and over any Mail Packets that may have to be secured to it, and which are to be lashed on with good stout riems. The Carts to be provided with two good Lamps, with strong Reflectors, which are to be kept lighted at night when travelling.

The Contractor is bound, at his own expense, to provide the means of protecting the Mail Packets from the weather, or injury in transferring them from one Post Cart to another, on the line of road herein referred to, and will be held responsible for any damage which may occur to them whilst being transferred from his charge.

The Contractor will be at liberty to carry such number of Passengers or Parcels in the Mail Vehicle as he may think fit, and to make his own charge for the accommodation thus afforded; provided that part of the Box or Well of the Cart specially to be appropriated for the Mail shall not be mixed up with any other Packets, &c., not appertaining to such Mail.

But the Contractor will not be allowed to carry in his Vehicles, by himself or any of his Servants, any Letters or Newspapers, excepting those delivered to him by the respective Postmasters, or for delivery at any Post Office, nor are they knowingly to permit any Passenger to carry any Letter or Newspaper.

The Post Rider shall be provided by the Contractor with a Bugle or Horn, to be sounded when approaching any Post Office or Post Station.

For any detention of the Mail, or any part thereof, beyond the time specified for the distance allowed, the Contractor shall forfeit according to the following scale:

	£	s.	d.
For every period not exceeding half an hour –	0	2	6
" half an hour, and not exceeding one hour –	0	7	6
" one hour, and not exceeding an hour and a half – – – – – – – – – –	0	15	0
" one hour and a half, and not exceeding two hours – – – – – – – –	1	5	0
" two hours, and not exceeding two hours and a half – – – – – – – – –	2	0	0

and for every additional half-hour beyond two hours and a half, the additional sum of Ten Shillings.

In the event of the Contractor failing or neglecting for three Posts in succession to convey the Mails within the time herein stipulated, the Postmaster-General for the time being, in that case, to have it in his power, should he so think fit, to advertise for Tenders for a new Contract without any reference to the clause for giving four months' notice for an earlier termination thereof (which clause is to be null and void); and any loss that may accrue by reason that the terms of the new Contract are higher than the terms of the old is to be borne by the Contractor.

And inasmuch as serious irregularities have arisen from hanging Vehicles and shifting the Mails, the Contractor will have to bind himself that as often as any Post Boy of his shall receive any Mail Bags or Post Office Packets in to any Vehicle at any Post Office, such Bags and Packets shall be carried to their destination in that same Vehicle, and that none of the said Bags or Parcels shall, between the Post Office where the same were received and the Post Office where the same should be delivered, be shifted or removed from that Vehicle to any other Vehicle or mode of conveyance unless with the permission and in the presence of some Postmaster, or unless the Vehicle carrying the same shall, by accident or other cause arising after the same shall have been received, be rendered incapable of carrying on the Mail to its destination. And for any and every breach of this stipulation the Contractor will have to pay to the Postmaster-General for the time being whatever penalty he shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds sterling.

In case any Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail shall not be regularly delivered at the same time as the rest thereof, the Contractor shall be bound to pay to the Postmaster-General, for or in respect of every such lost or missing Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail, such sum as the said Postmaster shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds Sterling, unless the Contractor shall prove that such Bag, Packet, or other part of any such Mail was lost or delayed by inevitable accident against which it was impossible to guard. And the Contractor shall likewise be liable to the Postmaster-General, claiming on behalf of whom it may concern, to make good all loss or damage sustained by any Person whomsoever, by reason that any Mail or Bag, Parcel, or other part of any Mail, shall have been lost or delayed for want of due and proper care and diligence of the Contractor, or any person in his service.

Should the said Contractor fail in the performance of his agreement at any period during the existence of the same, then, and in that case, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General for the time being, and for all Persons thereto authorized by him, to hire, or cause to be hired such Person or Persons, Horse or Horses, as shall be required for the due performance thereof; and all and every expense attendant upon the same shall be borne and sustained by the said Contractor.

And it is lastly agreed that in case of any act of omission constituting a breach by the Contractor of any of the provisions or stipulations of this Contract, not being an act or omission for which any other particular penalty is hereinbefore provided, the Postmaster-General shall have the option of claiming from the Contractor, for and on account of every such act or omission, respectively, the payment of Ten Pounds Sterling, by way of assessed and liquidated damages, and not as a penalty; or otherwise, of claiming and recovering such further or other sum as the said Postmaster shall prove to be the amount of loss or damages actually sustained from or by reason of such act or omission.

The Contractor will be bound to provide a passage in his Mail Conveyance for an Officer of this Department, when travelling on public business, without charge, when required so to do.

Further information may be obtained on application at the Office of the Postmaster-General.

TENDERS FOR THE CONVEYANCE OF MAILS.

General Post Office, Cape Town,
21st March, 1870.

NOTICE is hereby given that Sealed Tenders addressed to the Honourable the Auditor-General, and marked "Tender for Inland Mails," will be received by that Officer until Thursday, 2nd June, 1870, at 12 noon, for the conveyance of the following Mails:

Somerset and Bedford, viâ Cookhouse Drift, three times a week each way by Cart (Passenger or other), in six hours.

The Contract to commence from Wednesday, 13th July, to expire on 31st December, 1872.

Middelburg and Graaff-Reinet, in fourteen hours once a week each way, to commence on 1st August, 1870, and expire 31st December, 1872.

If a Tender for this line be accepted, either of the contracting parties will be at liberty to terminate the same upon giving four months' notice, in writing, to that effect.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

No Tender will be attended to unless prepared in proper form, in conformity with this Notice, and of which copies may be obtained either at this Office, or that of the respective Civil Commissioners and Postmasters.

The Tenders must include all intermediate Post Offices between Stations.

It is desired that the Tenderers should state the number of relays of Horses to be used, and the Stations at which they will be kept; as, also, at what price they will engage to convey extra Posts or Expresses on Horseback on the Post Line for which they tender.

Payment will be made to the Contractor monthly either at the Colonial Treasury in Cape Town, or by the Civil Commissioner of any Division he may select; provided the Contract Bond shall previously have been transmitted to this Office, duly completed, which Bond the Contractor will be required to execute in the presence of two competent Witnesses, together with two good and approved Sureties, to be provided by him, for the due fulfilment of the Contract; and he must accompany his Tender with a written engagement from his Sureties to bind themselves as such; as, also, with a Certificate from the Civil Commissioner or Resident Magistrate of the District in which he resides, as to the sufficiency of such Sureties. In the Tender, the names of the Contractor and his Sureties should be stated at full length, and their respective occupations should also be mentioned therein. The Security required will, in each case, be equal to the payment to be made by Government to the Contractor for one year of the Contract.

The Contractor will be required to provide his own means of conveyance for crossing rivers, without detention; and all penalties for delay, from whatever cause arising, will be rigidly exacted. Any party tendering is required to specify in his Tender the means to be adopted by him for crossing or avoiding swollen rivers, either by applying some contrivance, or leaving the usual line, and also the delay, if any, to be allowed on such occasions.

The Tenderers are required to convey the Mails in covered Carts on springs, conveyed by not fewer than two horses each.

The Contractor's Carts are to be light, but strong, sufficiently large to contain the Mail Bags, and to be furnished with Waterproof Wells, or Boxes, with strong Locks and Keys, to hold the Mail Packets, for enclosing and securing which it will be necessary for the Contractor to supply Waterproof Bags; or, failing these, the Cart is to be supplied with Tarpaulins, to be strapped over it and over any Mail Packets that may have to be secured to it, and which are to be lashed on with good stout riems. The Carts to be provided with two good Lamps, with strong Reflectors, which are to be kept lighted at night when travelling.

The Contractor is bound, at his own expense, to provide the means of protecting the Mail Packets from the weather, or injury in transferring them from one Post Cart to another, on the line of road herein referred to, and will be held responsible for any damage which may occur to them whilst being transferred from his charge.

The Contractor will be at liberty to carry such number of Passengers or Parcels in the Mail Vehicle as he may think fit, and to make his own charge for the accommodation thus afforded; provided that part of the Box or Well of the Cart specially to be appropriated for the Mail shall not be mixed up with any other Packets, &c., not appertaining to such Mail.

But the Contractor will not be allowed to carry in his Vehicles, by himself or any of his Servants, any Letters or Newspapers, excepting those delivered to him by the respective Postmasters, or for delivery at any Post Office, nor are they knowingly to permit any Passenger to carry any Letter or Newspaper.

The Post Rider shall be provided by the Contractor with a Bugle or Horn, to be sounded when approaching any Post Office or Post Station.

For any detention of the Mail, or any part thereof, beyond the time specified for the distance allowed, the Contractor shall forfeit according to the following scale:

	£	s.	d.
For every period not exceeding half an hour	0	2	6
" half an hour, and not exceeding one hour	0	7	6
" one hour, and not exceeding an hour and a half	0	15	0
" one hour and a half, and not exceeding two hours	1	5	0
" two hours, and not exceeding two hours and a half	2	0	0

and for every additional half-hour beyond two hours and a half, the additional sum of Ten Shillings.

In the event of the Contractor failing or neglecting for three Posts in succession to convey the Mails within the time herein stipulated, the Postmaster-General for the time being, in that case, to have it in his power, should he so think fit, to advertise for Tenders for a new Contract without any reference to the clause for giving four months' notice for an earlier termination thereof (which clause is to be null and void); and any loss that may accrue by reason that the terms of the new Contract are higher than the terms of the old is to be borne by the Contractor

And inasmuch as serious irregularities have arisen from hanging Vehicles and shifting the Mails, the Contractor will have to bind himself that as often as any Post Boy of his shall receive any Mail Bags or Post Office Packets in to any Vehicle at any Post Office, such Bags and Packets shall be carried to their destination in that same Vehicle, and that none of the said Bags or Parcels shall, between the Post Office where the same were received and the Post Office where the same should be delivered, be shifted or removed from that Vehicle to any other Vehicle or mode of conveyance unless with the permission and in the presence of some Postmaster, or unless the Vehicle carrying the same shall, by accident or other cause arising after the same shall have been received, be rendered incapable of carrying on the Mail to its destination. And for any and every breach of this stipulation the Contractor will have to pay to the Postmaster-General for the time being whatever penalty he shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds sterling.

In case any Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail shall not be regularly delivered at the same time as the rest thereof, the Contractor shall be bound to pay to the Postmaster-General, for or in respect of every such lost or missing Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail, such sum as the said Postmaster shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds Sterling, unless the Contractor shall prove that such Bag, Packet, or other part of any such Mail was lost or delayed by inevitable accident against which it was impossible to guard. And the Contractor shall likewise be liable to the Postmaster-General, claiming on behalf of whom it may concern, to make good all loss or damage sustained by any Person whomsoever, by reason that any Mail or Bag, Parcel, or other part of any Mail, shall have been lost or delayed for want of due and proper care and diligence of the Contractor, or any person in his service.

Should the said Contractor fail in the performance of his agreement at any period during the existence of the same, then, and in that case, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General for the time being, and for all Persons thereto authorized by him, to hire, or cause to be hired such Person or Persons, Horse or Horses, as shall be required for the due performance thereof; and all and every expense attendant upon the same shall be borne and sustained by the said Contractor.

And it is lastly agreed that in case of any act of omission constituting a breach by the Contractor of any of the provisions or stipulations of this Contract, not being an act or omission for which any other particular penalty is hereinbefore provided, the Postmaster-General shall have the option of claiming from the Contractor, for and on account of every such act or omission, respectively, the payment of Ten Pounds Sterling, by way of assessed and liquidated damages, and not as a penalty; or otherwise, of claiming and recovering such further or other sum as the said Postmaster shall prove to be the amount of loss or damages actually sustained from or by reason of such act or omission.

The Contractor will be bound to provide a passage in his Mail Conveyance for an Officer of this Department, when travelling on public business, without charge, when required so to do.

Further information may be obtained on application at the Office of the Postmaster-General.

CHARLES PIERS, Postmaster-General.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

No Tender will be attended to unless prepared in proper form, in conformity with this Notice, and of which copies may be obtained either at this Office, or that of the respective Civil Commissioners and Postmasters.

The Tenders must include all intermediate Post Offices between Stations.

It is desired that the Tenderers should state the number of relays of Horses to be used, and the Stations at which they will be kept; as, also, at what price they will engage to convey extra Posts or Expresses on Horseback on the Post Line for which they tender.

Payment will be made to the Contractor monthly either at the Colonial Treasury in Cape Town, or by the Civil Commissioner of any Division he may select; provided the Contract Bond shall previously have been transmitted to this Office, duly completed, which Bond the Contractor will be required to execute in the presence of two competent Witnesses, together with two good and approved Sureties, to be provided by him, for the due fulfilment of the Contract; and he must accompany his Tender with a written engagement from his Sureties to bind themselves as such; as, also, with a Certificate from the Civil Commissioner or Resident Magistrate of the District in which he resides, as to the sufficiency of such Sureties. In the Tender, the names of the Contractor and his Sureties should be stated at full length, and their respective occupations should also be mentioned therein. The Security required will, in each case, be equal to the payment to be made by Government to the Contractor for one year of the Contract.

The Contractor will be required to provide his own means of conveyance for crossing rivers, without detention; and all penalties for delay, from whatever cause arising, will be rigidly exacted. Any party tendering is required to specify in his Tender the means to be adopted by him for crossing or avoiding swollen rivers, either by applying some contrivance, or leaving the usual line, and also the delay, if any, to be allowed on such occasions.

The Tenderers are required to convey the Mails in covered Carts on springs, conveyed by not fewer than two horses each.

The Contractor's Carts are to be light, but strong, sufficiently large to contain the Mail Bags, and to be furnished with Waterproof Wells, or Boxes, with strong Locks and Keys, to hold the Mail Packets, for enclosing and securing which it will be necessary for the Contractor to supply Waterproof Bags; or, failing these, the Cart is to be supplied with Tarpaulins, to be strapped over it and over any Mail Packets that may have to be secured to it, and which are to be lashed on with good stout riems. The Carts to be provided with two good Lamps, with strong Reflectors, which are to be kept lighted at night when travelling.

The Contractor is bound, at his own expense, to provide the means of protecting the Mail Packets from the weather, or injury in transferring them from one Post Cart to another, on the line of road herein referred to, and will be held responsible for any damage which may occur to them whilst being transferred from his charge.

The Contractor will be at liberty to carry such number of Passengers or Parcels in the Mail Vehicle as he may think fit, and to make his own charge for the accommodation thus afforded; provided that part of the Box or Well of the Cart specially to be appropriated for the Mail shall not be mixed up with any other Packets, &c., not appertaining to such Mail.

But the Contractor will not be allowed to carry in his Vehicles, by himself or any of his Servants, any Letters or Newspapers, excepting those delivered to him by the respective Postmasters, or for delivery at any Post Office, nor are they knowingly to permit any Passenger to carry any Letter or Newspaper.

The Post Rider shall be provided by the Contractor with a Bugle or Horn, to be sounded when approaching any Post Office or Post Station.

For any detention of the Mail, or any part thereof, beyond the time specified for the distance allowed, the Contractor shall forfeit according to the following scale:

	£	s.	d.
For every period not exceeding half an hour –	0	2	6
„ half an hour, and not exceeding one hour –	0	7	0
„ one hour, and not exceeding an hour and a half – – – – – – – – – –	0	15	0
„ one hour and a half, and not exceeding two hours – – – – – – – – –	1	5	0
„ two hours, and not exceeding two hours and a half – – – – – – – – –	2	0	0

and for every additional half-hour beyond two hours and a half, the additional sum of Ten Shillings.

In the event of the Contractor failing or neglecting for three Posts in succession to convey the Mails within the time herein stipulated, the Postmaster-General for the time being, in that case, to have it in his power, should he so think fit, to advertise for Tenders for a new Contract without any reference to the clause for giving four months' notice for an earlier termination thereof (which clause is to be null and void); and any loss that may accrue by reason that the terms of the new Contract are higher than the terms of the old is to be borne by the Contractor

And inasmuch as serious irregularities have arisen from hanging Vehicles and shifting the Mails, the Contractor will have to bind himself that as often as any Post Boy of his shall receive any Mail Bags or Post Office Packets in to any Vehicle at any Post Office, such Bags and Packets shall be carried to their destination in that same Vehicle, and that none of the said Bags or Parcels shall, between the Post Office where the same were received and the Post Office where the same should be delivered, be shifted or removed from that Vehicle to any other Vehicle or mode of conveyance unless with the permission and in the presence of some Postmaster, or unless the Vehicle carrying the same shall, by accident or other cause arising after the same shall have been received, be rendered incapable of carrying on the Mail to its destination. And for any and every breach of this stipulation the Contractor will have to pay to the Postmaster-General for the time being whatever penalty he shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds sterling.

In case any Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail shall not be regularly delivered at the same time as the rest thereof, the Contractor shall be bound to pay to the Postmaster-General, for or in respect of every such lost or missing Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail, such sum as the said Postmaster shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds Sterling, unless the Contractor shall prove that such Bag, Packet, or other part of any such Mail was lost or delayed by inevitable acciden against which it was impossible to guard. And the Contractor shall likewise be liable to the Postmaster-General, claiming on behalf of whom it may concern, to make good all loss or damage sustained by any Person whomsoever, by reason that any Mail or Bag, Parcel, or other part of any Mail, shall have been lost or delayed for want of due and proper care and diligence of the Contractor, or any person in his service.

Should the said Contractor fail in the performance of his agreement at any period during the existence of the same, then, and in that case, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General for the time being, and for all Persons thereto authorized by him, to hire, or cause to be hired such Person or Persons, Horse or Horses, as shall be required for the due performance thereof; and all and every expense attendant upon the same shall be borne and sustained by the said Contractor.

And it is lastly agreed that in case of any act of omission constituting a breach by the Contractor of any of the provisions or stipulations of this Contract, not being an act or omission for which any other particular penalty is hereinbefore provided, the Postmaster-General shall have the option of claiming from the Contractor, for and on account of every such act or omission, respectively, the payment of Ten Pounds Sterling, by way of assessed and liquidated damages, and not as a penalty; or otherwise, of claiming and recovering such further or other sum as the said Postmaster shall prove to be the amount of loss or damages actually sustained from or by reason of such act or omission.

The Contractor will be bound to provide a passage in his Mail Conveyance for an Officer of this Department, when travelling on public business, without charge, when required so to do.

Further information may be obtained on application at the Office of the Postmaster-General.

CHARLES PIERS, Postmaster-General.

FRIDAY, MAY 27, 1870.

TENDERS FOR THE CONVEYANCE OF MAILS.

General Post Office, Cape Town,
21st March, 1870.

NOTICE is hereby given that Sealed Tenders addressed to the Honourable the Auditor-General, and marked "Tender for Inland Mails," will be received by that Officer until Thursday, 2nd June, 1870, at 12 noon, for the conveyance of the following Mails:

Somerset and Bedford, viâ Cookhouse Drift, three times a week each way by Cart (Passenger or other), in six hours.

The Contract to commence from Wednesday, 13th July, to expire on 31st December, 1872.

Middelburg and Graaff-Reinet, in fourteen hours once a week each way, to commence on 1st August, 1870, and expire 31st December, 1872.

If a Tender for this line be accepted, either of the contracting parties will be at liberty to terminate the same upon giving four months' notice, in writing, to hat effect.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

No Tender will be attended to unless prepared in proper form, in conformity with this Notice, and of which copies may be obtained either at this Office, or that of the respective Civil Commissioners and Postmasters.

The Tenders must include all intermediate Post Offices between Stations.

It is desired that the Tenderers should state the number of relays of Horses to be used, and the Stations at which they will be kept; as, also, at what price they will engage to convey extra Posts or Expresses on Horseback on the Post Line for which they tender.

Payment will be made to the Contractor monthly either at the Colonial Treasury in Cape Town, or by the Civi Commissioner of any Division he may select; provided the Contract Bond shall previously have been transmitted to this Office, duly completed, which Bond the Contractor will be required to execute in the presence of two competent Witnesses, together with two good and approved Sureties, to be provided by him, for the due fulfilment of the Contract; and he must accompany his Tender with a written engagement from his Sureties to bind themselves as such; as, also, with a Certificate from the Civil Commissioner or Resident Magistrate of the District in which he resides, as to the sufficiency of such Sureties. In the Tender, the names of the Contractor and his Sureties should be stated at full length, and their respective occupations should also be mentioned therein. The Security required will, in each case, be equal to the payment to be made by Government to the Contractor for one year of the Contract.

The Contractor will be required to provide his own means of conveyance for crossing rivers, without detention; and all penalties for delay, from whatever cause arising, will be rigidly exacted. Any party tendering is required to specify in his Tender the means to be adopted by him for crossing or avoiding swollen rivers, either by applying some contrivance, or leaving the usual line, and also the delay, if any, to be allowed on such occasions.

The Tenderers are required to convey the Mails in covered Carts on springs, conveyed by not fewer than two horses each.

The Contractor's Carts are to be light, but strong, sufficiently large to contain the Mail Bags, and to be furnished with Waterproof Wells, or Boxes, with strong Locks and Keys, to hold the Mail Packets, for enclosing and securing which it will be necessary for the Contractor to supply Waterproof Bags; or, failing these, the Cart is to be supplied with Tarpaulins, to be strapped over it and over any Mail Packets that may have to be secured to it, and which are to be lashed on with good stout riems. The Carts to be provided with two good Lamps, with strong Reflectors, which are to be kept lighted at night when travelling.

The Contractor is bound, at his own expense, to provide the means of protecting the Mail Packets from the weather, or injury in transferring them from one Post Cart to another, on the line of road herein referred to, and will be held responsible for any damage which may occur to them whilst being transferred from his charge.

The Contractor will be at liberty to carry s ch number of Passengers or Parcels in the Mail Vehicle as he may think fit, and to make his own charge for the accommodation thus afforded; provided that part of the Box or Well of the Cart specially to be appropriated for the Mail shall not be mixed up with any other Packets, &c., not appertaining to such Mail.

But the Contractor will not be allowed to carry in his Vehicles, by himself or any of his Servants, any Letters or Newspapers, excepting those delivered to him by the respective Postmasters, or for delivery at any Post Office, nor are they knowingly to permit any Passenger to carry any Letter or Newspaper.

The Post Rider shall be provided by the Contractor with a Bugle or Horn, to be sounded when approaching any Post Office or Post Station.

For any detention of the Mail, or any part thereof, beyond the time specified for the distance allowed, the Contractor shall forfeit according to the following scale:

	£	s.	d
For every period not exceeding half an hour -	0	2	6
„ half an hour, and not exceeding one hour -	0	7	6
„ one hour, and not exceeding an hour and a half - - - - - - - - - -	0	15	0
„ one hour and a half, and not exceeding two hours - - - - - - - - -	1	5	0
„ two hours, and not exceeding two hours and a half - - - - - - - - -	2	0	0

and for every additional half-hour beyond two hours and a half, the additional sum of Ten Shillings.

In the event of the Contractor failing or neglecting for three Posts in succession to convey the Mails within the time herein stipulated, the Postmaster-General for the time being, in that case, to have it in his power, should he so think fit, to advertise for Tenders for a new Contract without any reference to the clause for giving four months' notice for an earlier termination thereof (which clause is to be null and void); and any loss that may accrue by reason that the terms of the new Contract are higher than the terms of the old is to be borne by the Contractor

And inasmuch as serious irregularities have arisen from hanging Vehicles and shifting the Mails, the Contractor will have to bind himself that as often as any Post Boy of his shall receive any Mail Bags or Post Office Packets in to any Vehicle at any Post Office, such Bags and Packets shall be carried to their destination in that same Vehicle, and that none of the said Bags or Parcels shall, between the Post Office where the same were received and the Post Office where the same should be delivered, be shifted or removed from that Vehicle to any other Vehicle or mode of conveyance unless with the permission and in the presence of some Postmaster, or unless the Vehicle carrying the same shall, by accident or other cause arising after the same shall have been received, be rendered incapable of carrying on the Mail to its destination. And for any and every breach of this stipulation the Contractor will have to pay to the Postmaster-General for the time being whatever penalty he shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds sterling.

In case any Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail shall not be regularly delivered at the same time as the rest thereof, the Contractor shall be bound to pay to the Postmaster-General, for or in respect of every such lost or missing Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail, such sum as the said Postmaster shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds Sterling, unless the Contractor shall prove that such Bag, Packet, or other part of any such Mail was lost or delayed by inevitable acciden against which it was impossible to guard. And the Contractor shall likewise be liable to the Postmaster-General, claiming on behalf of whom it may concern, to make good all loss or damage sustained by any Person whomsoever, by reason that any Mail or Bag, Parcel, or other part of any Mail, shall have been lost or delayed for want of due and proper care and diligence of the Contractor, or any person in his service.

Should the said Contractor fail in the performance of his agreement at any period during the existence of the same, then, and in that case, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General for the time being, and for all Persons thereto authorized by him, to hire, or cause to be hired such Person or Persons, Horse or Horses, as shall be required for the due performance thereof; and all and every expense attendant upon the same shall be borne and sustained by the said Contractor.

And it is lastly agreed that in case of any act of omission constituting a breach by the Contractor of any of the provisions or stipulations of this Contract, not being an act or omission for which any other particular penalty is hereinbefore provided, the Postmaster-General shall have the option of claiming from the Contractor, for and on account of every such act or omission, respectively, the payment of Ten Pounds Sterling, by way of assessed and liquidated damages, and not as a penalty; or otherwise, of claiming and recovering such further or other sum as the said Postmaster shall prove to be the amount of loss or damages actually sustained from or by reason of such act or omission.

The Contractor will be bound to provide a passage in his Mail Conveyance for an Officer of this Department, when travelling on public business, without charge, when required so to do.

Further information may be obtained on application at the Office of the Postmaster-General.

CHARLES PIERS, Postmaster-General.

Now, therefore, by the powers and authorities in me vested, I do hereby declare and make known, that there shall be two Toll-gates or Bars placed at Diep River, and at the entrance of the Forests respectively, on the line of road aforesaid, and that the Tolls or Rates specified in the schedule hereunto attached will be demanded by the said Divisional Council of Knysna, or their officers, agents, or assigns, and will be payable on and in respect of all and every wagon, cart, or other vehicle, and on all animals which may pass through the said Gates or Bars, by the person in charge of the same, save and except persons, animals, or things by law exempt from the payment of Toll: Provided, always, that no more than one full Toll in any one day, to be computed from twelve o'clock at night to twelve o'clock of the next succeeding night, shall be demanded or taken for in respect of the same vehicles or animals for passing or repassing through the said Gates: And provided, also, that payment of the proper Tolls or Rates at one of the two Gates or Bars aforesaid, shall be held and taken to free the vehicles or animals so paid for from payment of any Tolls or Rates at the other.

The Lords of the Council have learnt with regret that losses and delays have occurred to parties in consequence of business having been placed in the hands of unqualified agents, and Her Majesty has been pleased to approve of this Order in Council with a view to prevent the occurrence of any such abuses in future.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

Payment will be made to the Contractor monthly either at the Colonial Treasury in Cape Town, or by the Civil Commissioner of any Division he may select; provided the Contract Bond shall previously have been transmitted to this Office, duly completed, which Bond the Contractor will be required to execute in the presence of two competent Witnesses, together with two good and approved Sureties, to be provided by him, for the due fulfilment of the Contract; and he must accompany his Tender with a written engagement from his Sureties to bind themselves as such; as, also, with a Certificate from the Civil Commissioner or Resident Magistrate of the District in which he resides, as to the sufficiency of such Sureties. In the Tender, the names of the Contractor and his Sureties should be stated at full length, and their respective occupations should also be mentioned therein. The Security required will, in each case, be equal to the payment to be made by Government to the Contractor for one year of the Contract.

The Contractor will be required to provide his own means of conveyance for crossing rivers, without detention; and all penalties for delay, from whatever cause arising, will be rigidly exacted. Any party tendering is required to specify in his Tender the means to be adopted by him for crossing or avoiding swollen rivers, either by applying some contrivance, or leaving the usual line, and also the delay, if any, to be allowed on such occasions.

The Tenderers are required to convey the Mails in covered Carts on springs, conveyed by not fewer than two horses each.

The Contractor's Carts are to be light, but strong, sufficiently large to contain the Mail Bags, and to be furnished with Waterproof Wells, or Boxes, with strong Locks and Keys, to hold the Mail Packets, for enclosing and securing which it will be necessary for the Contractor to supply Waterproof Bags; or, failing these, the Cart is to be supplied with Tarpaulins, to be strapped over it and over any Mail Packets that may have to be secured to it, and which are to be lashed on with good stout riems. The Carts to be provided with two good Lamps, with strong Reflectors, which are to be kept lighted at night when travelling.

The Contractor is bound, at his own expense, to provide the means of protecting the Mail Packets from the weather, or injury in transferring them from one Post Cart to another, on the line of road herein referred to, and will be held responsible for any damage which may occur to them whilst being transferred from his charge.

The Contractor will be at liberty to carry such number of Passengers or Parcels in the Mail Vehicle as he may think fit, and to make his own charge for the accommodation thus afforded; provided that part of the Box or Well of the Cart specially to be appropriated for the Mail shall not be mixed up with any other Packets, &c., not appertaining to such Mail.

But the Contractor will not be allowed to carry in his Vehicles, by himself or any of his Servants, any Letters or Newspapers, excepting those delivered to him by the respective Postmasters, or for delivery at any Post Office, nor are they knowingly to permit any Passenger to carry any Letter or Newspaper.

The Post Rider shall be provided by the Contractor with a Bugle or Horn, to be sounded when approaching any Post Office or Post Station.

For any detention of the Mail, or any part thereof, beyond the time specified for the distance allowed, the Contractor shall forfeit according to the following scale:

	£	s.	d
For every period not exceeding half an hour	0	2	6
„ half an hour, and not exceeding one hour	0	7	6
„ one hour, and not exceeding an hour and a half	0	15	0
„ one hour and a half, and not exceeding two hours	1	5	0
„ two hours, and not exceeding two hours and a half	2	0	0

and for every additional half-hour beyond two hours and a half, the additional sum of Ten Shillings.

In the event of the Contractor failing or neglecting for three Posts in succession to convey the Mails within the time herein stipulated, the Postmaster-General for the time being, in that case, to have it in his power, should he so think fit, to advertise for Tenders for a new Contract without any reference to the clause for giving four months' notice for an earlier termination thereof (which clause is to be null and void); and any loss that may accrue by reason that the terms of the new Contract are higher than the terms of the old is to be borne by the Contractor
